

Alger Large Cap Growth Fund
 a sub fund of The Alger Funds
 Class B (US0155656095)
 managed by Fred Alger Management, Inc.

Objectives and Investment Policy

Alger Large Cap Growth Fund seeks long-term capital appreciation.

The Fund focuses on growing companies that generally have broad product lines, markets, financial resources and depth of management. Under normal circumstances, the Fund invests at least 80% of its net assets in large cap equity securities with a total market capitalization within the appropriate range.

The Fund references the market capitalization of large companies included in the Russell 1000 Growth Index. The range of this index is updated each quarter end. At December 31, 2011, the market capitalization of the companies in this index ranged from $116.7 million to $417.5 billion.

The Fund has further narrowed its investment focus. The Fund intends to invest in securities of companies with a market capitalization between $4 billion and $10 billion. Additionally, the Fund will generally limit its investments to between 70 and 100 holdings.

The Fund can also invest in derivative instruments to increase gain, to hedge against the risk of unfavorable price movements in the underlying securities, or to diversify risk. The Fund may enter into forward currency contracts to hedge the Fund's foreign currency exposure when it holds non-U.S. dollar denominated securities.

The Fund pays transaction costs, such as commissions, when it buys or sells securities. These costs are not reflected in the Fund's expenses, but affect the Fund's performance.

You may redeem your shares on each business day. The right of redemption may however be suspended if extraordinary circumstances exist which make a suspension appear necessary having regard to the interests of the Fund's shareholders.

Additionally, you can direct the Fund whether to distribute or reinvest dividends and distributions. Please refer to the Section "Dividends and Distributions" in the Prospectus for further information.

Risk and Reward Profile

This indicator is based on historical data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk and reward profile of the Fund. The risk category shown is not guaranteed and may shift over time. The category 1 does not mean a risk free investment.

Alger Large Cap Growth Fund has been classified in category 6 since the fluctuation of its Net Asset Value is relatively high. Therefore the chance to make large gains means the risk of suffering large losses.

When categorizing a Fund it may happen that not all material risks were fully captured by the methodology. A detailed description of the risks can be found in detail in the Principal Investment Strategy and Principal Risks sections of the Prospectus. The following risks do not have an impact on the categorization of the Fund but may be relevant to the Fund's overall risk profile:

Risks related to investments in growth stocks: Prices of growth stocks tend to be higher in relation to their companies earnings and may be more sensitive to market, political and economic developments than other stocks, making their prices more volatile.

Risks related to the use of derivatives: The Fund may invest in, or enter into, derivatives for a variety of reasons, including to hedge certain market or interest rate risks, to provide a substitute for purchasing or selling particular securities or to increase potential returns. A small investment in derivatives could have a large impact on the Fund's performance.
