What are the risks and what could I get in return?

Risk indicator

The risk indicator is based on the assumption that you will hold the product for 5 years.

If you cash in the investment early, the actual risk may differ significantly and you may get back less.

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you.

We have classified this product as 6 out of 7, which is the second-highest risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a high level, and poor market conditions are very likely to impact our capacity to pay you.

Please be aware of currency risk if your reference currency differs from the currency of the product. You may receive payments in a different currency, so the final return you will get depends on the exchange rate between the two currencies. This risk is not considered in the indicator shown above.

Other risks not included in the risk indicator may be materially relevant:

- Liquidity risk
- Operational risk.

The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself, but may not include all the costs that you pay to your advisor or distributor. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back.

What you will get from this product depends on future market performance. Market developments in the future are uncertain and cannot be accurately predicted.

The unfavourable, moderate and favourable scenarios shown illustrate the worst, average and best performance of the product over the last ten years. The markets could develop in an entirely different way in the future.

What are the costs?

The person advising on or selling you this product may charge you other costs. If so, this person will provide you with information about these costs and how they affect your investment.

Costs over time

The tables show the amounts that are taken from your investment to cover different types of costs. These amounts depend on how much you invest, how long you hold the product and how well the product performs, if applicable. The amounts shown here are illustrations based on an investment amount and different possible investment periods.

We have assumed:

- In the first year you would get back the amount that you invested (0% annual return). For the other holding periods we have assumed the product performs as shown in the moderate scenario.

- 10,000 EUR will be invested.

We may share part of the costs with the person selling you the product to cover the services they provide to you. They will inform you of the amount.
