ERSTE IMMOBILIENFONDS invests primarily in Austria and Germany. In addition to (direct) investment in real estate and (indirect) investment in property companies, the fund can also invest in corporate and government bonds as dictated by the fund liquidity planning. The fund applies a conservative investment policy under which existing properties and residential development projects are purchased. The investment focus is on residential space and on commercial space (offices and retail). It cannot be guaranteed that the investment objectives will be achieved.

Up to 49% of the fund assets may be and at least 10% must be invested in liquid assets. Section 3 of the fund terms and conditions in conjunction with the prospectus and the Information for Investors pursuant to § 21 AIFMG contains a complete description of the instruments in which the fund may invest. The fund is permitted to take out loans with a total amount of up to 50% of the value of all properties.

Use of earnings for dividend shares (A): The earnings generated during the financial year (operating, valuation, securities, and liquidity gains) less all costs

Use of earnings for non-dividend shares with capital gains tax withholding (T): The earnings generated by the Fund during the financial year less all costs will not be paid out. In the case of non-dividend shares, an amount calculated in accordance with the ImmoInvFG must also be paid out on or after 1 July to cover the capital gains tax assessed by the tax authorities on the dividend-equivalent earnings from the fund shares. You can demand the return of your shares at the currently valid return price at any time by presenting the share certificates or by submitting a return order to the custodian bank/depositary; the return price shall be the value of a share rounded down to the next cent.

Risk and Return Profile

The risk indicator is based on historical data; this is not a prediction of future performance. The classification of the fund can change in future and is not an indicator of future developments. Even funds in category I are not entirely free of risk. The risk classification is not an objective or guarantee and can change over time. ERSTE IMMOBILIENFONDS is classified in category 1 because its share price fluctuates relatively little, which means that the risks of loss and the earnings potential are relatively low.

Rental income loss rate

The rental income loss rate shows the loss of rental income as a percentage of the target net rental income.

This was 11.51% in the 2021/2022 financial year.

The following risks have no direct influence on the classification, but can still be relevant for the fund:

A complete list of the individual risks associated with an investment in this real estate fund and measures taken to mitigate these risks can be found in the prospectus and Information for Investors pursuant to § 21 AIFMG (section II, item 10.6. Risk profile of the real estate fund).

Real estate risks

The rental income of the fund can decline as a result of vacancies, necessary rent reductions, or lost rent income. Tenant acquisition and tenant adaptation costs may be incurred. Property locations can become less attractive so that only lower rents can be charged. Possible legal changes can impact the revenue generated by a property.

The value of a property can decline due to lower rental income or market changes. Maintenance can prove to be more expensive than planned. For construction projects, completion may be delayed or the costs may be higher than calculated. The completed building can often not be let out immediately, or the achievable rent is lower than assumed when construction was started.

Development projects

For construction projects, completion may be delayed or the costs may be higher than calculated. The completed building can often not be let out immediately, or the achievable rent is lower than assumed when construction was started.

Liquidity risks

Unlike stocks, properties cannot always be sold on short notice. When a large number of investors wish to return their shares at the same time, the liquidity of the fund may not be sufficient to satisfy all redemption demands. In this case, the investment firm is required to suspend redemption, which means that investors will not be able to access their invested capital, possibly for a longer time. This may lead to the liquidation of the fund and the sale of all assets. The investor may not receive the liquidation proceeds for his shares until after complete liquidation.

Countries and regions

Especially properties in other countries can represent political risks and risks associated with different legal and tax systems. Holdings in real estate companies: When the fund invests indirectly in real estate through a holding company, this may entail risks from changes in commercial and tax law, especially in other countries.

Custody risk

The fund may suffer damage from errors made by the custodian bank or depositary.

Costs

The charged fees are used to manage the fund. This also includes the costs for the distribution and marketing of the fund shares. The payment of these fees reduces the fund's potential performance. The fund bears the ancillary costs associated with the purchase and sale of real estate and equity holdings. These are incurred in addition to the percentages listed under "Costs" and reduce the return of the fund.

One-time costs before and after investment

Issue premium	3,50%
Return fee	0,00%

This is the maximum amount that is deducted from your invested capital upon purchase or sale, which reduces the return. The costs may be lower in some cases. You can enquire into the exact amounts that apply to you by contacting your sales office.
