All incentives and reward systems for the Company's personnel are subject to the following types of conditions:

- activation conditions for the Group and the Company, consisting of liquidity, capitalisation and financial parameters;
- financing conditions of the mechanism of bonus funding for the Group and the Company, according to a top-down approach such as to take into account the exceeding of certain liquidity, capitalisation and financial parameters, in the first place at the level of the Group and, therefore, of the Company;
- individual access condition, meaning the level of achievement of the individual performance objectives, subject to the verification of the absence of individual compliance breaches. The individual performance objectives include financial as well as non-financial criteria.

The Board of Directors of the Company establishes and reviews annually the remuneration policy of the Company and ensures consistency with the overall policy of the Company in terms of risk-taking, the strategy and long-term, corporate governance structure and internal control objectives. It involves the Conducting Officers, each for their own responsibilities, in the definition and implementation of the Remuneration Policy.

The Company decided to entrust the Independent Directors Committee with the advisory and consulting functions aimed to support the Board of Directors in all activities relating to remuneration, defined in accordance with the principles set out in the ESMA Guidelines on sound remuneration policies (ESMA 232/2013 and 411/2016). The Committee is entirely composed of independent members. External persons can still participate in the meetings of the Committee in relation to specific items.

The internal process related to the governance of remuneration involves the Human Resources, the Risk Management, the Compliance and the Operations & Finance departments, each under the supervision of the respective Conducting Officer.

The Corporate Control Functions verify, for each area of competence (Risk Management, Compliance, Internal Audit), the alignment of the remuneration practices with the approved policies and the applicable regulations.

The ex-ante annual independent internal review of the remuneration system concluded its design to be appropriate.

Compensation Structure

The compensation of personnel includes:

- Fixed component, defined on the basis of the contractual category, the role held and the extent of responsibilities, reflecting the experience and skills required, as well as the quality of the contribution to corporate results;
- Variable component, linked to employee's performance and aligned with the annual results actually achieved and the risks prudentially assumed.

The criteria for the definition of the Company incentive systems, in application of the Intesa Sanpaolo Group's remuneration policy, aimed at ensuring the correlation between remuneration, performance and risks are, among others:

- the measurement of performance from multiple perspectives in order to align the management and employees behaviour to medium and long term strategic drivers, both quantitative (profitability, growth, productivity, cost of risk / sustainability) and qualitative (strategic actions or projects and managerial quality), on different perimeters (Group / Structure / Individual);
- the principle of selectivity, by differentiating the best performances and assigning higher bonuses;
- the principle of financial sustainability, by the definition of a bonus pool correlated to the performance of a Group parameter, currently identified as Income before tax from continuing operations and the use of a solidarity mechanism, according to which the amount of total bonuses paid to the employees of each Business Unit depends in part on the Group's overall performance (reflected in the size of the bonus pool) and in part on the degree of expected contribution to the Group's results;
- the definition of target bonus for roles and professional clusters to be used across all Group, in order to guarantee internal balance and the ongoing benchmarking between roles and/or professional clusters Group target bonuses and external market practices;
- the verification of the so-called individual compliance breaches as a restriction to bonus accrual (disciplinary measures, serious findings received from the Bank's control functions, sanctions by the Supervisory Authorities).

Vesting of the variable remuneration for Risk Takers is governed by specific rules in terms of:

- Deferral mechanisms;
- Payment partly in cash and partly in instruments and retention period for units/shares of funds;
- Ex-post adjustment mechanisms - malus or clawback.

Compensation for 2023

In accordance with the Law as of 17 December 2010 on Undertakings for Collective Investments (as subsequently amended) in conjunction with the guidelines on sound remuneration policies under UCITS published by the European Securities and Markets Authority (ESMA), the Company has identified individuals who have a material impact of the Company's risk profile (Material Risk Takers).

The regulations provide rules in relation to the variable component of the compensation of Risk Takers, indicating that:

- at least 40% of the variable component (60% for significant bonuses) must be subject to deferred payment for a period of 3 years (5 years for significant bonuses);
- a substantial portion (at least 50%) is paid out in units / shares of funds managed by the Company, or equivalent instruments; said percentage is applied, in the same proportion, to both the deferred and upfront portions of the variable component;
- there is a specific holding period (of no less than 2 years for the upfront component, and shorter for the deferred portion) for the vesting of the financial instruments referenced above.

In case the Variable Compensation is lower than EUR 80 000, the Material Risk Takers receive their entire Variable Compensation in cash without any deferral.

The following aggregate compensation has been paid by the Company to its Material Risk Takers and Other Staff in 2023 (in EUR) in relation to all its activities:

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE MANAGEMENT COMPANY OF THE FCP

Dear Investors,

Please find below the report of the Directors of Management Company on the activities of the FCP for the financial year ended on 31 December 2023.

1. Market overview

In the reference period (1 January 2023 – 31 December 2023) the decisions of the main Central Banks, with the growth-inflation mix, were the main topic of investors' attention. The risk scenario represented by a recession did not materialize and, after some phases of uncertainty during the summer, the macroeconomic data published later in the year outlined a context characterized by a downward acceleration of inflation, in the face of a growth picture that, although slowing down, exhibited good performance. Within this scenario, at the close of the year the Central Banks confirmed a pause in rate hikes and began to consider the possibility of implementing less restrictive monetary policies.

Specifically, the first quarter of 2023 opened with a background scenario that initially priced a linear decline in US inflation, with a macro context that has gradually consolidated its resilience with respect to the Central Banks' significant interest rate hike policies. In addition, the US labour market has remained very solid without giving any of those signs of slowdown desired by the Federal Reserve ("Fed", the US Central Bank). Subsequently, there was a rebound in inflation that was different from what had been expected by financial operators up to that point. Inflation, in fact, did not follow the linear decline as at the end of 2022, but proved to be persistent, in particular in the core component (that is, net of the most volatile components linked to food and energy prices). Sectors of economic activity linked to services (rents in particular) showed a considerable hold on the price level. The Fed, after a first rate hike of 25 basis points in February, took note of still strong inflation and an economy with no obvious signs of slowing down, reiterating its willingness to maintain a restrictive stance. In March, however, the failure of Silicon Valley Bank in the United States highlighted a first effect of the strong monetary tightening, and the stability of the financial system was added to the variables to be monitored by the Central Banks. With this in mind, the Fed made a second rate increase of 25 basis points, abandoning, however, a particularly restrictive approach. In Europe, the macro context was characterized by a similar evolution, with the total figure of inflation falling sharply in the quarter, thanks to the favourable base effects (i.e., thanks to the favourable comparison with the data of the same period last year) and the reduction in the energy price; the core component was still increasing. In this context, the European Central Bank ("ECB") made two increases of 50 basis points but had to partially change its focus after the Credit Suisse affair, which raised some doubts about the soundness of the European banking system. While the US and the Eurozone had to balance the fight against inflation and the stability of the financial system, China, after reopening at the end of 2022, returned to growth in a compounded way and without excesses.

At the opening of the second quarter, the attention of the US monetary authorities was still focused on the solvency of regional banks. This context led investors to bank on a scenario characterized by a faster reduction of interest rates. This scenario, however, has gradually lost steam as the data on growth and inflation showed that the economy's resilience was above expectations, especially considering the monetary tightening implemented by the main Central Banks. Between April and June, inflation and the resulting reactions of Central Banks were the main drivers of volatility for the markets. The figure referring to total US inflation went from 5% to 4% on an annual basis, while core inflation decreased, but to a lesser extent, going from 5,6% to 5,3%, again on an annual basis.

The persistence of the core component at levels deemed too high led the Fed to make a further 25-basis-point rate hike in May and to introduce a first pause in June, for a benchmark rate of 5,25% at the end of the second quarter. In Europe, price dynamics saw a large decline in total inflation, falling from 7% to 5,5% on an annual basis thanks to the significant reduction in energy prices, while the core component showed a much slower reduction rate, going from 5,6% to 5,4% on an annual basis. The strength of core inflation in fact prompted the ECB to intervene with two 25-basis-point increases in the May and June meetings, announcing further increases, based on the price level trend. Regarding growth, the US labour market remained solid, while business confidence confirmed the trend at the beginning of the year, which saw a marginal weakness in the manufacturing sector globally offset by a considerable performance in services. China continued its macro recovery following the re-openings, but without excesses.

The third quarter saw the Central Banks' decisions with the growth-inflation mix again confirmed as being at the centre of the market dynamics. During the quarter in the US, inflation consolidated the reduction trend already shown in the previous months. September, however, highlighted a new flare in prices. This was driven mainly by the increase in the oil price, which has steadily risen above 90 dollars per barrel, in part due to the cut in production. At the end of the quarter, total inflation in the US stood at 3,7% and core inflation at 4,3% on an annual basis. Inflation also fell in Europe, where at the end of September the total figure stood at 4,3% and the core figure at 4,5%, confirming a downward trend. Despite falling inflation, the possibility of new price pressures from oil prices, together with growth data resilient to monetary tightening, led the Central Banks to maintain a strict attitude verbally, while announcing, in fact, a pause in rate hikes. In particular, in the US the focus remained on the labour market that proved to be in good health, with applications for unemployment benefits still very low. In the quarter, the Fed actually made an increase of 25 basis points in July, announcing a pause in September, but confirming its readiness to resume the increases in the event of new inflationary pressures. For its part, the ECB intervened with two rate hikes for a total of 50 basis points, introducing the possibility of a pause for the following months at the September meeting while stressing the dependence of decisions on the overall macroeconomic framework. Globally, in the summer months China confirmed its difficulty in reviving growth in a sustained way, hampered once again by the difficulties of the real estate sector.

During the fourth quarter, the consolidation of a downward trend in inflation was the decisive factor for investors and Central Banks. In the US, inflation has shown a well-defined, downwards trend, with geopolitical tensions linked to the crisis in the Middle East that didn't result in new pressures on the oil price. In the quarter, the US labour market also went back to normal, with data relating to new monthly employees that were in line with the pre-pandemic macro framework. This context of falling inflation, but with growth and the labour market still far from recessionary dynamics, allowed the Fed to confirm the pause in rate hikes in November and, subsequently, announce a less restrictive monetary policy stance for 2024, always net of any new and unexpected accelerations in inflation. In Europe, too, the ECB confirmed the pause in rises, thanks to falling inflation data and an overall solid macro environment, which, however, showed signs of a more marked slowdown than in the US. The ECB, however, was less inclined to give direct indications about future rate developments, reiterating an approach dependent on the evolution of macro data. Globally, China confirmed the problems in reviving growth in a sustained manner, still hampered by tensions in the real estate sector and difficulties in attracting foreign investment due to the ongoing geopolitical tensions.

Analysing the performance of the financial markets, government rates showed a first upward phase until the beginning of March and then moved to the downside, albeit through movements lacking a clear directionality. During the summer, however, there were new upward pressures that first affected the short part of the curves and, later, the longer ones. In contrast, in the last months of the year, faced with the suspension of the monetary restrictions by the main Central Banks and the gradual reduction in inflationary pressures, government rates recorded some downward phases on all maturities in both the US and Europe. In more detail, the US 2-year interest rate went from 4,43% to 4,25% and the ten-year one closed the reference period at the same levels as the previous year at 3,88% for a curve that remained inverted (i.e. with a level of rates on the short-term section higher than that of the long-term section). In Europe, the German 2-year rate fell from 2,76% to 2,40% and the ten-year rate from 2,57% to 2,02%. Within the peripheral component, the spread of the 10-year Italian rate compared to the German one decreased from 214 to 168 basis points.

Within this scenario, the global bond market showed a positive performance of 4,2% in local currency (JPM Global index), while in euro it showed a more moderate recovery of 0,6%. Concerning individual geographical areas, the Eurozone closed the reference period with the JPM Emu index up 7,0% and the United States (JPM USA index) recorded a gain of 4,3% in local currency and 0,7% in EUR. Emerging countries (JPM Embi+ index) showed a positive performance of 10,3% in local currency and 6,6% in EUR.

As for the stock markets, the growing expectations for a slowdown in the pace of monetary tightening, within a macroeconomic context that showed the persistence of some solidity, favoured a general recovery in the prices of the main price lists. This movement weakened partially only in the final part of the summer and in the first autumn months, when interest rate volatility produced phases of instability that resulted in some profit-taking. The geopolitical tensions that affected the Middle East during October were a focus of attention for operators but had a limited and contained impact on market dynamics. In the final part of the year, signs of a reduction in inflationary pressures, which led the Central Banks to confirm the pause in rate hikes and to consider less restrictive monetary policies, favoured a phase of significant price recovery. The global stock market recorded a gain of 23,1% in local currency (MSCI World index) and of 19,6% in EUR. In terms of individual geographical areas, the US stock market (MSCI USA index) performed positively at 26,5% in local currency (+22,2% when expressed in EUR); the European markets (MSCI EMU index) gained 18,8%. The Emerging Countries area also recorded a positive performance, albeit lower than in the more developed countries; the area as a whole (MSCI Emerging Markets index) showed a recovery of 9,9% in local currency and 6,1% in EUR.

Regarding the currency market, the EUR was strengthened by 3,5% against the US Dollar and 10,6% against the Yen, while it weakened by 5,8% against the Swiss Franc and 2,3% against the Pound Sterling. Currency dynamics impacted the performance converted into EUR of the non-Eurozone markets.

- assessing the methods and times for any possible exercise of participating and voting rights, based on a cost-benefit analysis that also considers the objectives and investment policy of each managed portfolio;
- preventing or managing any conflict-of-interest situations that may arise from exercising of voting rights on behalf of managed assets.

In this context, Eurizon Capital S.A. endorses (i) the "Stewardship Code" promoted by the European Fund and Asset Management Association (EFAMA) in order to encourage, at a European level, the development of good corporate governance practices and (ii) the "Italian Stewardship Principles" for the exercise of administrative and voting rights in listed companies and the related Best Practice Recommendations defined by Assogestioni.

Eurizon Capital S.A. takes part, on behalf of managed assets, in the Shareholder meetings of selected companies with shares listed on international markets, considering the usefulness of participating in the interests of the managed assets and the possibility to impact decisions in relation to shares held with voting rights. Based on a cost/benefit analysis that takes into account the investment objectives and policies of the managed products, the Company has adopted preliminary and operating processes that differ for the exercise of voting rights, depending on whether the decision concerns resolutions of shareholders' meetings:

- considered more significant, based on one or more of the following criteria;
- for which Eurizon uses electronic voting (proxy voting).

Based on the above, Eurizon has defined the following criteria to identify meetings of the most significant shareholders:

- the holding of significant amounts of capital;
- the presence of situations in relation to which, in the interests of managed assets, it intends to (i) report on situations of particular interest, in defence of or supporting the interests of minority shareholders; or (ii) support decisions referred to environmental, social and good corporate governance practices;
- the appointment of statutory auditors or board directors of companies listed in Italy based on list voting, representing minority shareholders;
- the presence of extraordinary transactions considered significant for the interest of managed assets, in order to support or oppose a proposed operation.

For more information regarding the voting activity please refer to the "Stewardship Report", the "Report on participation at shareholder meetings of companies with securities under portfolios" and the Proxy Voting Dashboard available at <https://www.eurizoncapital.com/en/sustainability/stewardship-policy>

6. Sustainability Policy

Eurizon Capital S.A. has adopted a Sustainability Policy that describes the financial instrument selection and monitoring methodologies adopted so as to include the sustainability risk analysis and management as part of its decision-making process on investments relating to collective asset management services and portfolio management and to the recommendations made within the investment advisory service (“Investment Process”).

Along with these methodologies, the adoption of specific financial instruments selection processes is foreseen, which are appropriately calibrated based on the characteristics and objectives of the individual products managed, that take into account environmental, social and corporate governance (ESG) factors, and principles of Sustainable and Responsible Investments (SRI).

The criteria for selecting and monitoring issuers criteria based on ESG and SRI profiles integrate the traditional financial analysis of risk/return profiles of issuers that the Company takes into account when forming its Investment choices, in order to i) avoid environmental, social and governance conditions cause a significant, actual or potential, significant negative impact on the value of the investments of managed assets and ii) lever the capabilities of issuers to benefit from sustainable growth opportunities.

In accordance with applicable regulations, Eurizon Capital S.A. makes available to its clients/investors and other stakeholders the summary of the Sustainability Policy, and any relevant updates to it, on <https://www.eurizoncapital.com/en/sustainability/sustainability-policy>.

Pursuant to Article 11(2) of Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 (the "SFDR Regulation") and the related implementing regulations, the information on environmental and/or social characteristics related to each sub-funds categorised article 8 or 9 under SFDR are available in the Periodic Disclosure attached to this Annual Report.

Independent auditor's report

To the Unitholders of Eurizon Fund

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Eurizon Fund (the "Fund") and of each of its sub-funds which comprise the statement of net assets, the portfolio, the future contracts, the option contracts, the forward foreign exchange contracts and the swap contracts as at 31 December 2023, and the statement of changes in net assets for the year then ended, and the notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Fund and of each of its sub-funds as at 31 December 2023, and of the results of their operations and changes in their net assets for the year then ended in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Law of 23 July 2016 on the audit profession (the "Law of 23 July 2016") and with International Standards on Auditing ("ISAs") as adopted for Luxembourg by the "Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier" ("CSSF"). Our responsibilities under the Law of 23 July 2016 and ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF are further described in the "Responsibilities of the "réviseur d'entreprises agréé" for the audit of the financial statements" section of our report. We are also independent of the Fund in accordance with the International Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants, including International Independence Standards, issued by the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants ("IESBA Code") as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements, and have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities under those ethical requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Other information

The Board of Directors of the management company of the Fund (the "Board of Directors") is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report but does not include the financial statements and our report of the "réviseur d'entreprises agréé" thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report this fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the Board of Directors for the financial statements

The Board of Directors is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements, and for such internal control as the Board of Directors determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Board of Directors is responsible for assessing the Fund's and each of its sub-funds' ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors either intends to liquidate the Fund or any of its sub-funds or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Responsibilities of the “réviseur d'entreprises agréé” for the audit of the financial statements

The objectives of our audit are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue a report of “réviseur d'entreprises agréé” that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Law of 23 July 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Law of 23 July 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Fund's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Board of Directors.

Building a better
working world

- Conclude on the appropriateness of Board of Directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Fund's or any of its sub-funds' ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our report of "réviseur d'entreprises agréé" to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of report of "réviseur d'entreprises agréé". However, future events or conditions may cause the Fund or any of its sub-funds to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence and communicate to them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, actions taken to eliminate threats or safeguards applied.
