Templeton Frontier Markets Fund

Class I(Ydis)GBP¹ • ISIN LU0390137387

A sub-fund of Franklin Templeton Investment Funds

Objectives and Investment Policy

Templeton Frontier Markets Fund (the “Fund”) aims to increase the value of its investments over the medium to long term.

The Fund invests mainly in:

- equity securities issued by companies of any size located in, or doing significant business in, frontier markets

The Fund can invest to a lesser extent in:

- equity, equity-related or debt securities issued by companies of any size located in any country
- derivatives for hedging and efficient portfolio management

The investment team uses global research expertise with a focus on identifying companies in frontier markets that it believes are overlooked by other investors and offer an opportunity for increased value over the long term.

You may request the sale of your shares on any Luxembourg business day.

For distribution share class shown in this document, dividend income is distributed to shareholders.

For further information on the Objectives and Investment Policy of the Fund, please refer to the section “Fund Information, Objectives and Investment Policies” of the current prospectus of Franklin Templeton Investment Funds.

Terms to Understand

Debt securities: Securities representing the issuer’s obligation to repay a loan at a specified date and to pay interest.

Derivatives: Financial instruments whose characteristics and value depend on the performance of one or more underlying assets, typically securities, indexes, currencies or interest rates.

Equity securities: Securities that represent an ownership stake in a company.

Frontier markets: Typically, countries whose economies and securities markets are smaller, less accessible and/or at a very early stage of development even compared to emerging markets.

Hedging: A strategy for totally or partially offsetting particular risks such as those arising from fluctuations in share prices, currencies or interest rates.

Risk and Reward Profile

What does this indicator mean and what are its limits?

This indicator is designed to provide you with a measure of the price movement of this share class based on historical behavior.

It may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Fund. The category shown is not guaranteed to remain unchanged and may shift over time.

The lowest category does not mean risk free.

As the share class has no sufficient historical data available, simulated data based on representative portfolio model or benchmark have been used instead.

Why is the Fund in this specific category?

The Fund invests mainly in equity securities of frontier markets around the world that are subject to significant price movements, frequently to a greater extent than equity markets generally or emerging markets. As a result, the performance of the Fund can fluctuate significantly over relatively short time periods.

Risks materially relevant not adequately captured by the indicator:

Currency Risk: the risk of loss arising from exchange-rate fluctuations or due to exchange control regulations.

Emerging markets risk: the risk related to investing in countries that have less developed political, economic, legal and regulatory systems, and that may be impacted by political/economic instability, lack of liquidity or transparency, or safekeeping issues.

Liquidity risk: the risk that arises when adverse market conditions affect the ability to sell assets when necessary. Reduced liquidity may have a negative impact on the price of the assets.

For a full discussion of all the risks applicable to this Fund, please refer to the “Risk Considerations” section of the current prospectus of Franklin Templeton Investment Funds.
