Background to the ICAV

Description

KBI Funds ICAV is an open-ended umbrella type Irish Collective Asset-management Vehicle (the "ICAV") with limited liability and segregated liability between Sub-Funds. The ICAV was established on 24 August 2016 having converted from company status by way of continuation in accordance with applicable law and the Central Bank requirements.

The ICAV was previously incorporated in Ireland on 9 June 2004 as a public limited company before the conversion into an Irish Collective Asset-management Vehicle and complied with the provisions in the Companies Act 2014 up until its conversion date. The ICAV is authorised by the Central Bank of Ireland (the "Central Bank") pursuant to the provisions of the European Communities (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations, 2011, (S.I. 352 of 2011) (as amended) (the "UCITS Regulations") and the Central Bank (Supervision and Enforcement) Act 2013 (Section 48(1)) (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations 2019 (the "Central Bank UCITS Regulations") and the Irish Collective Asset-management Act 2015 (the "ICAV Act").

The ICAV is structured as an umbrella Fund consisting of different Sub-Funds comprising one or more Classes. The Shares of each Class of a Sub-Fund will rank pari passu with each other in all respects provided that they may differ as to certain matters including currency of denomination, hedging strategies, if any, applied to the currency of a particular Class or against interest rate risk applying to a particular Class, dividend policy, the level of fees and expenses to be charged, subscription or redemption procedures or the Minimum Subscription and Minimum Holding applicable.

The assets of each Sub-Fund will be separate from one another and will be invested separately in accordance with the investment objective and policies of each Sub-Fund. A separate portfolio of assets is not maintained for each Class.

Overdrawn positions that exist in the Sub-Funds of the ICAV are as a result of transaction related activity and are not a result of a leverage strategy. While leverage is allowed as per the Prospectus, the longstanding policy of the Investment Manager is not to employ a leverage strategy on any of the Sub-Funds.

At the financial period ended 29 February 2024, there were sixteen Sub-Funds in existence:

Investment Manager's Report

KBI Global Energy Transition Fund

The KBI Global Energy Transition Fund (the "Sub-Fund") decreased by 6.3% for the six month period to end February 2024, while the Wilderhill New Energy Global Innovation Index decreased by 18.4% and MSCI ACWI gained by 12.0% (in EUR terms). The Sub-Fund decreased by 0.4% during the six month period to end February 2023, outperforming the Wilderhill New Energy Global Innovation Index which decreased by 17.4% (in EUR terms). The Sub-Fund was in compliance with the strategy and objectives as set out in the prospectus.

Whilst volatile, the six month period was a period of strength for global equity markets. Stickier than expected inflation and continued economic strength in the US suggested that the pace of interest rate decreases may be slower, and the starting point later, than many investors had expected. In this context market trends reverted to those of earlier in 2023, with communication services and IT (information technology) the best performing sectors. The weakest areas of the market were interest rate sensitive sectors (real estate and utilities). In this environment, it was a tough month for the strategy relative to the broad market due to the higher weight in utilities and the underperformance of yield sensitive sectors among renewable segment (US residential solar). However, the strategy strongly outperformed its thematic benchmark due to its more balanced exposure – less small cap, and less renewable energy exposure.

All three segments declined in the period, but the energy efficiency segment was the best performing of the three. Among the top contributors by stock were semiconductor and technology stocks (NXP, ASML) due to optimism around AI (artificial intelligence) and reassuring results. Smart metering leader Itron, rallied on positive results due to improvement in supply chain issues and industrials (ABB, Eaton) rallied on strong results with record order books supported by strong secular growth trends in electrification and grid infrastructure. Newly added positions in Nexans and Schneider were also among the top contributors. Nexans is a leading cable manufacturer globally specializing in the areas of power generation & transmission and distribution. Schneider Electric is a leader in providing energy-related solutions globally specialising in the areas of energy management and digital automation. It offers energy technologies, automation, software and services to many end markets including buildings, homes, industries and infrastructure. Commentary around easing EV (electric vehicle) demand and EV manufacturers pushing out production numbers led to underperformance of EV related stocks, in particular battery and lithium players.

The renewable energy segment was the weakest segment in the six month period. The solar sector in particular drove the weakness. The solar equipment companies Enphase, Solaredge reported weaker than expected earnings due to elevated inventories from easing demand in Europe and the US, causing shares to sell off. The US solar residential installers (Sunnova and Sunrun) were also large detractors, given fears that higher for longer interest rates could impact their growth plans and cost of capital. Within wind, there was more positive sentiment towards offshore wind players in the latter half of the period due to increased auction prices, while wind turbine manufacturers such as Vestas rallied on positive order momentum particularly in the US onshore wind market. The utilities segment overall had a negative contribution to performance, due to expected pushout of rate cuts. The higher interest rate environment continued to be an overhang on asset owners such Atlantica, while European clean energy utilities were weak as declining power prices weighted on earning expectations of companies such as RWE.

Investment Outlook

With the world's major economies now committed to achieving net-zero emissions in the long-term, we believe we are in the early stages of a multi-decade energy transition. The need to decarbonise global economies will lead to substantial investment and growth opportunities for our companies who provide solutions for decarbonisation across many end markets. We believe the energy transition will remain on track despite the prospect of the global economy slowing, helped by several tailwinds: increasing global renewable energy capacity, energy resilience, grid investments, US manufacturing reshoring and US Federal government stimulus spending. The stimulus spending from legislation (Infrastructure & Jobs Act, Inflation Reduction Acts) has been delayed due to lack of regulatory clarity and should start to flow meaningfully in the next year. We believe this should kick-start investment spend in new wind and solar installations in the US as tax credits kick-in, while more nascent end markets such as battery storage will enjoy strong growth off a low base. We also anticipate continued adoption of EVs globally and an increased focus on European domestic manufacturing for both renewable and e-mobility end markets will be a key driver.

While uncertainty regarding the macro-economic environment remains elevated, we remain very constructive on the energy solutions theme due to the significant policy tailwinds driving secular growth regardless of the macro environment. Many of those tailwinds have yet to play out including stimulus flows from Infrastructure and Jobs Act for strengthening the grid and clarity around IRA (Inflation Reduction Act) tax credits which have pushed some renewable energy projects to the right. To that end, we remain focused on stocks that offer the best earnings resilience and are key beneficiaries of these tailwinds.

While the pace and magnitude is uncertain, the market does anticipate interest rates to fall in 2024. This should be a tailwind for utilities which are a cornerstone of our strategy and that are in some cases trading on 10-year lows. It will also be a tailwind for some of the renewable stocks that are particularly interest rate sensitive such as the US solar residential installers. In the electric vehicle market, commentary around declining growth in this space is overdone in our view. We still see healthy growth in EV penetration across US, Europe, and China. With declining input prices, we expect battery prices to decline in 2024 which will help OEMs (original equipment manufacturer) such as BYD. We are very constructive on the electrical infrastructure end market due to the strong secular growth drivers of digitisation and electrification. Electrical infrastructure companies such as Eaton and Schneider are forecasting mid to high single digit growth topline growth and record backlogs due to significant demand in the areas of grid hardening, data centre infrastructure and reshoring of large manufacturing plants in the US.

29 February 2024

KBI Water Fund

The KBI Water Fund (the "Sub-Fund"), in the six month period to end February 2024 increased by 9.3%, underperforming the MSCI ACWI Index, which increased by 11.7% (all in USD terms). In the prior year, for the six month period to end February 2023 the Sub-Fund increased by 9.6%, outperforming the MSCI ACWI Index, which increased by just 3.3% (all in USD terms). The Sub-Fund was in compliance with the strategy and objectives as set out in the prospectus.

The early part of the six month period, September and October, was weak, as the strategy's exposure to yield sensitive names, both in the form of utilities and high quality, premium valuation water technology stocks, proved a headwind as the US 10-year treasury yield continued its sharp ascent. However, the tide turned in November 2023 as the US 10-year treasury yield began its retreat from its highs, driven by increasing expectations that we have reached 'peak' interest rates in the US, with reported inflation data appearing to be under control. This saw a rally in the interest rate sensitive stocks held in the strategy and also the stocks that had lagged the most year to date, which carried through into December. The market debate for January and February 2024 centered around the pace and timeline regarding the downward trajectory of interest rates, given the resilience of the underlying economy and the desire to keep inflation under control, with this dynamic putting a halt to the rally in the interest rate sensitive names in the strategy particularly. Fourth quarter 2023 earnings season played out in the background in February and demonstrated that fundamentals are strong in the water space as our companies were positive on their end markets, such as the engineering and construction space, US residential and utilities spending, and many demonstrated the benefits of strong competitive positioning.

In the six month period under review, water technology was the best performing segment, followed by water infrastructure, both outperforming the marketing, while utilities was the laggard and underperformed. The top three contributors to the Sub-Fund in the period were Xylem, Core & Main and Ecolab. Xylem is a water solutions company operating across water transport, treatment and technology markets. The stock performed well after reporting solid results with solid order trends supportive, as productivity initiatives and Evoqua synergies should continue to support margin during the year. Core and Main is a distributor of water, wastewater, storm drainage and fire protection products. The stock performed well after announcing positive quarterly results, raising their full year guidance as a result. Ecolab is a global leader in water, hygiene and infection prevention solutions. The stock was strong in February particularly, after producing solid results demonstrating pricing catching up as costs stabilise to abate, a positive tailwind for the margin story.

The top three detractors from the Sub-Fund were American Water Works, Danaher Corp and Essential Utilities. American Water Works is a US regulated water utility. The stock was weak in the period against a backdrop where the expectation is that interest rates may now remain higher for longer, a negative for bond proxy like utilities. Danaher is a global multi-industrial with activities predominantly in the life sciences space. The company was weak in the period due to the overhang of destocking in its high growth biopharma end-market, proving a headwind for sales. Essential Utilities is a US regulated water utility. The stock was weak due to the same dynamics that impacted its peer American Water Works, with higher for longer interest rates proving a headwind.

Over the review period our infrastructure segment weight increased, driven by some very strong performances across a number of names and our utilities weight decreased, driven predominantly by the extent of underperformance. The technology segment weight also increased. Our main focus in the period was to position the portfolio towards resilient end-markets and to companies with earnings believability and resilience in a down-turn, which should provide downside protection to the portfolio. Early in the period, we added a new stock, which we have held in the past, called Toro, as the risk-reward became more attractive after the stock sold off post a disappointing earnings announcement. Toro is a manufacturer of turf maintenance, lawn care and micro irrigation equipment, and also provides infrastructure related equipment in underground construction markets. We continued to reduce our position in Danaher post the spin-off of its water business, Veralto, in early October 2023, and we built up our position in Veralto in the period. We also added Valmont to the portfolio, a company we have owned in the past, who fabricate metal structures for use in irrigation, power transmission, wireless communication towers, lighting and highway signage. We like that a high proportion of their revenues are driven by both government and utility/regulated spend. Finally, we reduced our holding in distributor Core and Main after a strong run and similarly in South American water utility Sabesp.

Investment Outlook

The KBI Water strategy remains balanced and well diversified both from an end market and geographic perspective. Just like 2023, we entered 2024 defensively postured and we are comfortable with our exposures and the potential earnings risk in the portfolio given the potential for economic weakness over the coming year. Earnings believability continues to be something we are very focused on, and many of the themes we liked entering 2023 are themes we continue to like for 2024. We have a preference for companies where we feel demand may prove more resilient, either due to their exposure to Infrastructure stimulus spending in the US, large backlogs, or due to their break-and-fix orientation. We also like companies that we would expect to be beneficiaries of peaking inflation and improvements in supply chains. We also have a preference for more defensive-type business models like regulated utilities, which tend to be monopolies, or non-regulated utilities like Veolia that operate long term concession type agreements. Companies that we own in the Technology space tend to be high quality with a high percentage of their revenues coming from recurring revenue activities and strong balance sheets. Our exposure to more cyclical end markets like industrial is low and we have been diligent about diversifying our exposure to private construction markets, doing this by owning a number of different market leading, high-quality names that tend to be more repair and replacement oriented as opposed to new build, with strong balance sheets, and in some cases offsetting growth drivers.

We remain focused on earnings risk and downside protection as we opportunistically take advantage of the recent market volatility. We expect the long-term superior earnings growth experienced by the Water strategy to continue, with our expectations for earnings growth in 2024 currently ahead of the market. The strategy remains attractively valued with room for its historic premium to be regained.

KBI Global Investors Ltd 29 February 2024

KBI Emerging Markets Equity Fund

The KBI Emerging Markets Equity Fund (the "Sub-Fund") registered a rise of 9.2% for the six month period to end February 2024 outperforming the MSCI Emerging Markets Index which rose by 5.2% (all in EUR terms). The Sub-Fund registered a decline of 2.1% for the six month period to end February 2023, outperforming the MSCI Emerging Markets Index which declined by 7.3% (all in EUR terms). The Sub-Fund was in compliance with the strategy and objectives as set out in the prospectus.

Global stock markets rallied strongly in the period under review. Investors were buoyed by the positive tailwinds of improving inflation data, easing interest rate expectations, and sharply falling bond yields. Fundamentally, the strong returns reflected greater optimism about economic conditions with activity staying positive, while inflation in most major economies fell sharply. The latter encouraged many to anticipate materially lower interest rates during 2024. Emerging market equities underperformed their developed market counterparts as the economic news continued to disappoint in China while the response from the authorities was underwhelming and failed to restore either consumer or investor confidence.

From a style perspective value outperformed growth by 4.4% led by solid outperformance in Asia and Latin America although growth outperformed in Europe, Middle East and Africa (EMEA). High yield also outperformed thanks to strong performance in Asia although it underperformed in the other two regions. Across the market cap spectrum, small cap stocks were the best performers as large cap stocks struggled on a relative basis.

Relative stock selection contributed positively to performance in automobiles, banks and in media and entertainment. In automobiles, Hero MotoCorp outperformed following the launch of two critical models - the Xtreme 125R and the Mavrick 440 as this will strengthen the two-wheeler major's portfolio amid the current trend of premiumisation in the market. Hero's wholesale market share has dropped to 30% in the nine-month period ending in December 2023 compared to an average of 36% over Fiscal Year (FY)18-FY22. This came on the back of lacklustre demand in the entry level segment where Hero primarily operates. Therefore, the launch of the Xtreme 125R could play a significant role in helping Hero to recapture some of its lost market share. In banks, Bank Pekao performed strongly as net profit came in ahead of expectations thanks to a positive impairment result with the help of a writeback on the Swiss Franc mortgage loan portfolio. Retail loans grew 4.2% quarter on quarter (qoq), reflecting strong demand (plus market share gain for Bank Pekao) for government subsidised mortgages in Q4 while consumer loans were up less than 1% and the corporate loan book shrank 1.7% qoq. Management see no reason for cost of risk to rise above the 50-60 basis points target in 2024 and believe that a recalibration of Non-Performing Loans may bring these below 5% this year so as to allow a 75% payout. Bank Pekao has greater certainty on payouts than at some peers given limited potential distraction from foreign exchange mortgage issues given its limited exposure to the asset class. In media and entertainment, NetEase outperformed as it is expected to enter a new game launch cycle with Condor Hero (28th March 2024) and Naraka Bladepoint Mobile (Q224) driving share price outperformance in the second half of 2024. NetEase will host its annual game conference on 20th May 2024 and this should serve as another share price catalyst with better visibility on the 2025/2026 pipeline. A focused approach to games development, successful execution of genre diversification and a disciplined approach to exporting games to overseas markets should translate into more promising and visible growth prospects and enable NetEase to achieve its global aspiration.

Relative stock selection detracted from performance in consumer discretionary, semiconductors and in food, beverage and tobacco. In consumer discretionary, Zhongsheng struggled as new car sales margin remained under downward pressure during the latter part of 2023. However, Mercedes has just launched its new generation E-class and its new car margin should recover in 2024 as Mercedes plans to position away from the premium segment and establish itself as a dominant luxury brand. This should enable Mercedes to reduce direct competition with Tesla and China's Electric Vehicle trio - Li Auto, Nio and XPeng and enable it to achieve more resilient pricing. As one of the largest Mercedes dealers in China, Zhongsheng stands to benefit from Mercedes' new strategy. In semiconductors, Parade Technologies underperformed due to concern over its share loss at a key US customer to Samsung's in-house timing controller chip for products based on Organic Light Emitting Diode (OLED) panels. Parade Technologies should however still have a competitive advantage in this business thanks to its proven track record, rich experience and technological prowess. Parade Technologies has 30% revenue exposure to this key customer but the impact should be manageable as it will be mitigated by the sustained share dominance and higher content value in OLED timing controllers. In food, beverage and tobacco, Chongqing Brewery underperformed as investors are taking a cautious view on China's consumer sector in 2024 due to continuously weakening property prices especially in tier 1 cities. A better than expected recovery in the service sector segment might generate upside to employment benefiting overall consumption particularly in the mass market segment. Revenue growth has been slowing recently at Chongqing Brewery caused by deceleration in the premium products segment (Wusu and 1664). However, the high dividend payout should support the valuation despite the sluggish earnings outlook.

Emerging market equities continue to trade at a significant discount to their developed market peers. Earnings downgrades have slowed in recent months and the potential narrowing of the Return on Equity (ROE) gap versus developed markets could warrant a narrowing of the valuation gap. Emerging market currencies in aggregate also appear very attractively priced.

While the turnaround in the technology cycle will give a boost to earnings growth in Asia, given China's low valuation it is the policy response in China that will play a vital role in the period ahead. If sufficiently positive, the potential for a significant rebound – led by China – across this unloved but attractively priced market segment is worth underlining.

29 February 2024

KBI Developed Equity Fund

The KBI Developed Equity Fund (the "Sub-Fund") registered a rise of 8.6% for the six month period to end February 2024 underperforming the MSCI World Index, which posted a rise of 12.8% (all in EUR terms). The Sub-Fund recorded a rise of 3.5% for the six month period to end February 2023, outperforming the MSCI World Index, which decreased by 1.3% (all in EUR terms). The Sub-Fund was in compliance with the strategy and objectives as set out in the prospectus.

Stock markets rallied strongly in the period under review. Investors were buoyed by the positive tailwinds of improving inflation data, easing interest rate expectations, and sharply falling bond yields. Fundamentally, the strong returns reflected greater optimism about economic conditions. During the period, the US economy continued to grow strongly, while inflation in most major economies fell sharply. The latter encouraged many to anticipate materially lower interest rates during 2024.

From a style perspective, growth outperformed value as the market was dominated by Artificial Intelligence (AI) and by the strong performance from a small group of highly valued large cap companies that are expected to benefit from this theme. High yield had a very difficult time as most of these companies do not even pay a dividend and certainly not a competitive one. Across the market cap spectrum, small cap stocks were the worst performers as large caps surged.

Relative stock selection detracted from performance in media and entertainment, semiconductors and pharmaceuticals. In media and entertainment, Interpublic underperformed as it became the biggest victim of weak technology advertising spending in 2023 although spending should bounce back in 2024 as digital advertising revenues bottom out and the roll out of AI leads to a new investment cycle. While the main pressure was witnessed in the telecom and technology sectors, management also noted that moderately heightened macro uncertainty had led to some cuts or delays in spending from smaller clients. We had no exposure to Meta which performed strongly during the period under review as earnings exceeded expectations across most metrics with growing engagement and broad based advertising strength delivering accelerating revenue growth and materially expanding margins. In semiconductors, we had no exposure to Nvidia which rallied as the company remains confident that AI will drive a significant refresh for personal computers and that the Graphic Processing Unit (GPU) remains the main way to accelerate Gen AI. Nvidia also noted that demand will continue to outstrip supply through 2024 allaying fears of an inventory build/correction in the second half. In pharmaceuticals, Pfizer underperformed as it revealed 2024 sales and earnings guidance that were both well below consensus expectations. Guidance reflects a weaker than expected outlook for COVID revenues with Pfizer anticipating 2024 sales of $8bn from Comirnaty ($5bn) and Paxlovid ($3bn) – this compares to consensus expectations of $13.9bn and down 63% sequentially from the initial 2023 guide. Below the topline, earnings guidance is significantly below expectations (even allowing for COVID) and implies gross margin downside.

Relative stock selection contributed positively to performance in energy, automobiles and capital goods. In energy, Marathon Petroleum and Valero outperformed as refining stocks benefited from the market moving to a more risk on profile as perceived near-term recession risk faded and record gasoline spreads led to an upward earnings revision cycle. Light product inventories remained tight despite an increase in production runs coming out of heavy first half maintenance and new global capacity ramping up. In automobiles, Stellantis had a very strong period under review. While the company faces the same headwinds as peers on price and mix normalisation it has 1) several key model launches 2) strong cost base actions and 3) a differentiated Electric Vehicle (EV) strategy with limited exposure to China and to financial services. Stellantis will enjoy continued cost savings from group procurement and headcount reduction while the reduction in raw material battery costs and energy should help to offset wage inflation and pricing headwinds. The stock remains attractive as it is trading on a forward price earnings ratio of only 3.5 times and with an 8% dividend yield with the potential for a step up in shareholder remuneration. In capital goods, Masco outperformed after it reported strong quarterly earnings per share driven by higher plumbing sales and operating margin upside. Management introduced 2024 revenue guidance of flat year on year with the industry expected to decline by low single digits to flat. Revenue growth is expected to be slightly lower year on year in the first half before growth returns in the second half. Management also unveiled earnings per share guidance of $4.00-$4.25 which is 4% above consensus at the mid-point.

Investment Outlook

While a strong year for stock market returns, 2023 was not normal with the narrowest return since 1987 dominated by seven mega capitalisation US stocks. As a result, market multiples have expanded more than earnings growth and are now at an aggregate level trading greater than historic averages. For the period ahead, markets should be more driven by fundamentals than hype or sentiment.

Importantly, within equity markets there are large valuation disparities with stretched valuations in growthier sectors such as the artificial intelligence names that dominated 2023, compared to attractive entry points for value or higher yielding sectors. Our expectation that a hard economic landing will be avoided should be a catalyst for a rotation and broadening of stock market performance in the period ahead.

KBI Global Resource Solutions Fund

The KBI Global Resource Solutions Fund (the "Sub-Fund") declined 0.5% in the six month period to end February 2024, outperforming the S&P Global Natural Resources Index which fell by 2.6%. The Sub-Fund underperformed the MSCI AC World Index, which increased by 12.0% in the period (all in EUR terms). The Sub-Fund gained 0.7% in the six month period to end February 2023, underperforming the S&P Global Natural Resources Index which rose 3.2%. The Sub-Fund outperformed the MSCI AC World Index, which declined by 2.0% in the period (all in EUR terms). The Sub-Fund was in compliance with the strategy and objectives as set out in the prospectus.

Whilst volatile, the six month period was a period of strength for global equity markets. Stickier than expected inflation and continued economic strength in the US suggested that the pace of interest rate decreases may be slower, and the starting point later, than many investors had expected. In this context market trends reverted to those of earlier in 2023, with communication services and IT (information technology) the best performing sectors. The weakest areas of the market were interest rate sensitive sectors (real estate and utilities). In this environment, it was a tough period for the strategy relative to the broad market due to the higher weight in utilities and the underperformance of yield sensitive sectors among renewable segment (US residential solar).

There was significant performance dispersion across the three resources in the period. Water performed best, driven by strong returns in the water technology and water infrastructure segments. The largest contributor to performance was water technology stock Xylem, which recovered from depressed levels due to an unexpected management transition announcement followed by continued strong earnings within its large pumps and smart metering businesses. Many of the construction-related water stocks—distributors, engineers, and building products—drove performance in the water infrastructure segment. Energy transition performance was mixed, with clean energy utilities and renewables negatively impacted by interest rate sensitivity and pockets of demand weakness, such as solar panel invertors. Energy efficiency was slightly up, helped by semiconductor-related stocks due to optimism around AI (artificial intelligence) and supportive results and grid infrastructure-related companies. These were offset by EV (electric vehicle) -related companies as EV penetration has decelerated. The agribusiness resource lagged the most, with weakness across all three agri segments, driven by downward pressure on soft commodity, input prices, and crush margins as well as negative sentiment in the US on value stocks.

The top contributors were split evenly between water and energy transition stocks. Water stocks included Xylem, Core & Main (waterworks distributor), United Utilities (UK regulated water utility), Coway (residential water treatment), and Ferguson (plumbing and waterworks distributor). Top energy transition stocks included Itron (meters & grid intelligence), ASML (semiconductor equipment), NXP (semis), Vestas (wind turbine manufacturer), and Eaton (electrical components). The contributors were a mix of fertilizer and crop protection companies (FMC, Nutrien, K+S, and Mosaic), agriculture infrastructure and processors (Bunge and ADM), and a diverse mix of energy transition stocks such as Samsung SDI (batteries), Sunnova (residential solar installer), Aptiv (vehicle technologies), and RWE (offshore wind).

Investment Outlook

The Sub-Fund invests in the key resources of water, food and energy. These resources are critical to how we live and there are no substitutes. The Sub-Fund invests in companies that provide solutions to the problem of growing supply-demand imbalances across these scarce and essential resources, which are driven by a combination of significant demographic changes and significant supply constraints as well as significant policy support to address a future world. We believe this is an attractive source of growth that underpins the investment thesis for the Sub-Fund.

KBI Eurozone Equity Fund

The KBI Eurozone Equity Fund (the "Sub-Fund") registered a rise of 8.6% for the six month period to end February 2024 underperforming the MSCI EMU Index, which advanced by 10.1% (all in EUR terms). The Sub-Fund registered a rise of 20.0% for the six month period to end February 2023, outperforming the MSCI EMU Index, which advanced by 17.7% (all in EUR terms). The Sub-Fund was in compliance with the strategy and objectives as set out in the prospectus.

Stock markets rallied strongly in the period under review. Investors were buoyed by the positive tailwinds of improving inflation data, easing interest rate expectations, and falling bond yields. Fundamentally, the strong returns reflected greater optimism about economic conditions. During the period, the major economies continued to grow strongly, while inflation fell sharply. The latter encouraged many to anticipate materially lower interest rates during 2024.

Growth outperformed value by 9.6% driven by sharp outperformance from the heavily weighted information technology sector boosted by Artificial Intelligence (AI) enthusiasm. High yield had a difficult time underperforming by 3.3% while small and midcap stocks struggled on a relative basis.

Relative stock selection detracted from performance in software and services, energy and in consumer durable and apparel. In software and services, Bechtle underperformed as quarterly revenue came in below consensus expectations (-4%), reflecting an organic decline of 0.7%. System House generated 5.8% sales growth driven by sales to the public sector and large customers while Ecommerce declined by 7.5% as mid-sized businesses delayed renewals due to macro uncertainty. The order backlog stood at €1.4bn – unchanged over the quarter with a book to bill of 1.01, 0.96 in System House and 1.03 in Ecommerce. Despite weaker revenues, margins expanded on the back of stronger demand for complex high margin solutions, a higher share of software in the mix, higher bonus payments as well as solid cost control. In energy, OMV was under pressure after it reported weaker quarterly results than expected as net income came in below expectations on a combination of weaker refining margin capture, lower marketing margins and higher upstream costs. However, cash flow from operations was better than expected benefitting from positive cash tax lag effects. The chemicals environment remains particularly challenging with Chemicals and Materials Earnings Before Interest and Tax turning negative and no major improvement expected in the near-term as the chemicals cycle appears to be troughing rather than inflecting and cracker utilisation type recovery indicators will remain a focus for investors in H124 (1st Half 2024). In consumer durable and apparel, Kering remained under pressure as investors are concerned about downside risk from a recession and the unwinding of the post pandemic boom in luxury demand. The company is now entering a softer sector context with almost all of its brands suffering from weak momentum. While Kering are likely to re-establish growth in the current softening environment, this may take time and will continue to put margins under pressure which together with significant execution risks means that the valuation of the stock may remain range bound.

Relative stock selection contributed positively to performance in banks, automobiles and in consumer discretionary. In banks, BBVA outperformed as it delivered a confident message with the bank expecting positive revenue growth in 2024 versus 2023, improving operating jaws with revenue growth exceeding cost growth and potentially some slight increase in the cost of risk and more capital returns to come. The bank believes that it deserves to re-rate from here given its high return on equity generation and solid capital position. BBVA is likely to do further buybacks as the bank sees limited growth opportunities while merger and acquisition activity is unlikely in the near term. In automobiles, Stellantis had a very strong period under review. While the company faces the same headwinds as peers on price and mix normalisation it has 1) several key model launches 2) strong cost base actions and 3) a differentiated Electric Vehicle (EV) strategy with limited exposure to China and to financial services. Stellantis will enjoy continued cost savings from group procurement and headcount reduction while the reduction in raw material battery costs and energy should help to offset wage inflation and pricing headwinds. The stock remains attractive as it is trading on a forward price earnings ratio of only 3.5 times and with an 8% dividend yield with the potential for a step up in shareholder remuneration. In consumer discretionary, Inditex outperformed as quarterly earnings surprised on the upside and were accompanied by a re-acceleration in local currency sales growth. The gross margin outlook remains positive as the company benefits from lower freight and material costs while the supply chain should not be impacted by the Red Sea disruptions thanks to the local sourcing business model. The higher end positioning of Inditex banners primarily target customers who are less impacted by the cost of living crisis.

Investment Outlook

While a strong year for global stock market returns, the narrowness of the return in 2023 was unusual and significant. As a result, market multiples have expanded more than earnings growth and are now at an aggregate level trading greater than historic averages. For the period ahead, markets should be more driven by fundamentals than hype or sentiment.

KBI North America Equity Fund

The KBI North America Equity Fund (the "Sub-Fund") registered a rise of 8.0% for the six month period to end February 2024 underperforming the MSCI North America Index, which advanced by 13.7% (all in US$ terms). The Sub-Fund registered a rise of 6.0% for the six month period to end February 2023, outperforming the MSCI North America Index, which advanced by 0.9% (all in US$ terms). The Sub-Fund was in compliance with the strategy and objectives as set out in the prospectus.

Light product inventories remained tight despite an increase in production runs coming out of heavy first half maintenance and new global capacity ramping up. In consumer durable and apparel, Lennar outperformed during the period under review. While demand was strong at the start of the period, it slowed in October as rates rose above 8% exacerbating typical seasonal moderation. Lennar managed through the demand moderation by becoming more active on the incentive front with buyers. Incentives are expected to moderate in the current period as Lennar targets 10% year on year growth in deliveries, driven by market share gains rather than overall market growth. The company also announced a new $5bn share repurchase authorisation and a 33% increase in its dividend. In capital goods, Masco outperformed after it reported strong quarterly earnings per share driven by higher plumbing sales and operating margin upside. Management introduced 2024 revenue guidance of flat year on year with the industry expected to decline by low single digits to flat. Revenue growth is expected to be slightly lower year on year in the first half before growth returns in the second half. In software and services, Oracle underperformed after it delivered a 3% cloud miss due to some Software as a Service weakness and Oracle Cloud Infrastructure timing issues. Despite the non-trivial shortfall, the company is sticking to their guns around a second half ramp in cloud backed by strong bookings commentary. Oracle suggested that it is not a demand issue but rather the pace at which it is standing up AI and other capacity, constrained by human resources and the engineering complexity of building customer dedicated datacentres.

Blue chip and price growth have outperformed over the past year and this should support an improved flow trajectory in 2024 while recent actions on the expense front should help to provide some earnings insulation in the future. In capital goods, Masco outperformed after it reported strong quarterly earnings per share driven by higher plumbing sales and operating margin upside. KBI Global Investors Ltd 29 February 2024

KBI Global Sustainable Infrastructure Fund

The KBI Global Sustainable Infrastructure Fund (the "Sub-Fund") generated a negative return of 2.0% for the six month period to end February 2024 underperforming the S&P Global Infrastructure Index which posted a positive return of 2.3% (in EUR terms). Across the three underlying sectors, performance was mixed, utilities and infrastructure capex names were weak while asset owners lagged generated a modest positive return. The Sub-Fund generated a negative return of 3.0% for the six-month period to end February 2023 outperforming the S&P Global Infrastructure Index which posted a negative return of 6.1% (in EUR terms).

Whilst volatile, the six month period was a period of strength for global equity markets. Stickier than expected inflation and continued economic strength in the US suggested that the pace of interest rate decreases may be slower, and the starting point later, than many investors had expected. In this context market trends reverted to those of earlier in 2023, with communication services and IT (information technology) the best performing sectors. The weakest areas of the market were interest rate sensitive sectors (real estate and utilities). In this environment, it was a tough month for the strategy relative to the broad market due to the higher weight in utilities and the underperformance of yield sensitive sectors including our utilities.

With this backdrop, the worst performing sector was utilities. The selloff in utilities in response to the move in the US 10-year Treasury bond yield, hurt names such as Nextera and Orsted. The latter announced an impairment across its assets in the US; meanwhile Nextera fell amid general concerns over rising interest expense. Overall, the higher rate environment hurt our names. Meanwhile, European utilities fell in early 2024 as power prices across Europe declined following another mild winter.

Meanwhile, asset owners fared better following a rebound in our data center operators as well as waste names. Despite this our yield sensitive names including American Tower and SBA Communications Corporation struggled. We did witness a rally in November and December 2023 as yields moderated off their highs but in early 2024 the trend of higher rates has reemerged as a theme. Finally, infrastructure names struggled over the period driven by weakness across solar names and transport stocks.

Investment Outlook

The Sub-Fund invests in companies which own and operate long duration assets within water, clean energy, agri business and social and digital end markets. The strategy looks to invest in long term infrastructure assets which are producing predictable cash flows (often inflation linked). When building the portfolio, we aim to provide exposure to stable regulatory environments.

There is an urgent need to upgrade our ageing infrastructure in developed markets; much of the water supply and wastewater systems for instance was designed when cities were less congested and are now in major need of overhaul. Government pledges to achieve net zero emissions by 2050 will result in a transformation of our energy infrastructure assets. Decarbonization and digitization of the electric grid will drive huge investment spend in clean energy infrastructure over the coming years. Global investment in agri infrastructure will be more focused on emerging markets where increased use of storage equipment and grain handling assets, will be needed to reduce the large wastage that occurs between production and consumption. Following several years of under investment, governments are increasingly recognizing the need to invest in ageing infrastructure both as a way of stimulating the global economy and as a way of providing a social benefit to taxpayers.

There are 3 key drivers supporting increased growth in sustainable infrastructure. Significant demographic changes (such as population growth, emerging market middle class growth and urbanization for example) are set to raise demand for infrastructure sharply over coming decades. Secondly, concern over rising emissions has prompted governments to prioritize climate change objectives when enacting fiscal incentives schemes that support infrastructure end markets. Finally, advances in technology across renewable energy end markets has accelerated the trend of decarbonization. Increased growth in intermittent wind and solar energy requires additional spend in electric grid infrastructure.

While the market is concerned regarding the impact of higher interest rates and a possible economic recession, we believe the strategy is well positioned as we enter 2024. Firstly bond yields have sharply declined from their highs in Q323 and we expect interest rate cuts in 2024 to have a stabilizing effect on the more interest rate sensitive sectors such as utilities and asset owners. Secondly, sustainable infrastructure is supported by strong stimulus packages such as the Inflation Reduction Act which we believe will be resilient to a slowing economy.

At KBI, our near-term cyclical outlook is less sanguine and expect the pattern of volatile 'flip-flopping' investor sentiment to continue. The 'not too-hot, not too-cold, just right' goldilocks consensus will not be smooth-sailing and we expect periods where once again the worry that inflation is too strong, or perhaps that growth is too weak suddenly re-appears. Our view is that growth will be slower than consensus expects and that an eventual mild recession (rather than soft landing) will occur. We also highlight that 2024 will be a major year for politics with not just the US Presidential election but upwards of 40 elections scheduled globally. Geopolitical tensions will likely be a major influence through the year. This causes us to be less bullish overall for equities, more defensive in our positioning and mindful of an expected market background against which risk assets should struggle. In this environment, we expect investors to favour durable and predictable business models and shy away from more cyclical asset classes.

29 February 2024

KBI Diversified Growth Fund

The KBI Diversified Growth Fund (the "Sub-Fund") rose by 3.5% for the six month period to end February 2024. This compares with a 1.8% return in the six months to end February 2023. The Sub-Fund was in compliance with the strategy and objectives as set out in the prospectus.

Over the period, the MSCI World Equity Index rose by 12.8%, while the ICE BofA Index of over ten-year eurozone government bonds rose by 3.2%. From a regional perspective, European equities rose by 8.5% and US equities rose by 14.0%, while Pacific ex Japan equities rose by 5.1%. Emerging market equities rose by 5.2%. On the currency front, the Euro weakened by 0.3% against the US Dollar. (All returns are in EUR).

During the period under review, markets have been on a positive trajectory ending the period in a much more positive position. Positive earnings reports and strong economic data contributed to favourable performance over the period. While there has been a recovery in equity markets over the period bond markets have delivered negative performance due to disappointing inflation data.

Investment Outlook

Although markets have been strong in recent months, and inflation has declined, it is still unclear whether the substantial increases in interest rates seen during 2022 and 2023 will push some or most large economies into recession, and the timing and extent of interest rate cuts is highly dependent on inflation declining on a sustained basis. We believe that the full impact of high interest rates has not been fully felt as yet and thus that growth will decline markedly in the US, as it already has done in Europe.

Against this somewhat uncertain background, global equity valuations are moderately high relative to history, while the valuations of some (very large cap) stocks do appear stretched. Against this background, equity and bond markets will, we believe, continue to struggle and volatility will remain high.

KBI Global Investors Ltd 29 February 2024

KBI Global Small Cap Equity Fund

The KBI Global Small Cap Equity Fund (the "Sub-Fund") registered a rise of 10.1% for the six month period to end February 2024 outperforming the MSCI World Small Cap Index which advanced by 7.4% (all in EUR terms). The Sub-Fund registered a rise of 4.0% for the six month period to end February 2023, outperforming the MSCI World Small Cap Index, which advanced by 0.9% (all in EUR terms). The Sub-Fund was in compliance with the strategy and objectives as set out in the prospectus.

Stock markets rallied strongly in the period under review. Investors were buoyed by the positive tailwinds of improving inflation data, easing interest rate expectations, and sharply falling bond yields. Fundamentally, the strong returns reflected greater optimism about economic conditions. During the period, the US economy continued to grow strongly, while inflation in most major economies fell sharply. The latter encouraged many to anticipate materially lower interest rates during 2024. Small cap equities underperformed their large cap counterparts given the dominant performance of a handful of mega cap technology stocks in the large cap benchmark.

Growth outperformed value by 1.7% during the period under review thanks to strong outperformance in North America although value marginally outperformed in Europe and Japan. Value underperformance was caused by weakness in several heavily weighted interest rate sensitive sectors such as utilities and real estate.

Relative stock selection contributed positively to performance in consumer services, consumer discretionary and insurance. In consumer services, Texas Roadhouse outperformed as it continued to distance itself from casual dining peers as one of the few publicly traded names that posts ongoing traffic/ unit growth. Strong traffic growth plus still elevated pricing and easing food cost inflation should support restaurant margin expansion in 2024 while highlighting the potential for even better profitability and earnings delivery over the coming years. In consumer discretionary, Williams Sonoma advanced as it delivered earnings upside supported by a much stronger gross margin. The company has delivered solid execution with the margin performance reflecting lean inventory and limited promotions along with supply chain benefits and other operational initiatives. In insurance, Assured Guaranty performed strongly reflecting the improved earnings profile of the asset management business, the better share repurchase outlook given the approval of special dividends and the lower risk related to the Puerto Rico exposure. Capital management is key as Assured Guaranty continues to have excess capital in its insurance entities but requires regulatory approval to release the capital.

Relative stock selection detracted from performance in pharmaceuticals, real estate and energy. In pharmaceuticals, Perrigo was under pressure as it was forced to temporarily close some plants in the infant formula segment for cleaning, infrastructural improvement and further updated quality protocols. While the setback in the nutritional business was not a surprise it was the magnitude of the impact that disappointed investors. Perrigo expects the largest impact to be in the first quarter of 2024 with the segment returning to growth in the second half of the year. In real estate, Hysan Development underperformed due to lower rental income and margin pressure on the Lee Gardens rejuvenation project in 2023. However, 2024 should witness a reasonable pick up in rental income after renovation as 10% of retail space was closed last year while earnings should post a mid-single digit increase and support a sustainable dividend yield of 8%. In energy, Patterson UTI was under pressure given a tough oil and gas environment and a very weak US gas price. Investors were also concerned that the attractive free cash flow yield would not translate into actual free cash flow and therefore shareholder returns due to worries around overspending and the possibility of another large acquisition. Management attempted to address these concerns by guiding to return at least $400m representing more than 50% of free cash flow resulting in a 13% free cash flow yield. Merger and acquisition activity is not a high priority and share repurchases will represent most of its return programme after increasing its buyback authorisation to $1bn.

Investment Outlook

While a strong year for stock market returns, 2023 was not normal with the narrowest return since 1987 dominated by seven mega capitalisation US stocks. As a result, market multiples have expanded more than earnings growth and are now at an aggregate level trading greater than historic averages. For the period ahead, markets should be more driven by fundamentals than hype or sentiment.

Importantly, within equity markets there are large valuation disparities with stretched valuations in growthier sectors such as the artificial intelligence names that dominated 2023, compared to attractive entry points for value or higher yielding sectors. Our expectation that a hard economic landing will be avoided should be a catalyst for a rotation and broadening of stock market performance in the period ahead.

Small cap equities trade at a significant discount to the large cap benchmark and are the only size segment that are historically cheap. Small cap stocks tend to outperform following narrow markets, during Federal Reserve interest rate cutting cycles and following troughs in profit growth.

KBI Global Investors Ltd 29 February 2024

KBI Circular Economy Fund (launched on 19 September 2023)

The KBI Circular Economy Fund (the "Sub-Fund") increased by 8.2% during the period from inception (19 September 2023) to end February 2024, underperforming the MSCI ACWI Index which increased by 11.5% (in EUR terms). The Sub-Fund was in compliance with the strategy and objectives as set out in the prospectus.

The period under review was a period of strength for global equity markets, albeit quite volatile. The U.S. economy has remained more resilient than the market anticipated, and inflation has remained stubbornly high leading to a decrease in expectations for the pace of interest rate cuts in the U.S. this year, which has had knock on impacts for other central banks around the globe. The weakest areas of the market included interest rate sensitive sectors. In this environment, it was a tough period for the portfolio relative to the broad market due to the higher weight in utilities. The portfolio struggled also versus the broader market due to our lower exposure to large market capitalised technology companies. Partially offsetting this was strong stock selection in the materials and industrials sectors.

All three segments were in positive territory in the period, although there was a wide dispersion with the efficient consumption segment by far the best performing of the three. Strong contributors by stock were semiconductor and technology stocks, including ASML and NXP Semiconductor, due to optimism around AI (artificial intelligence) and reassuring results.

Solution providers was the next best segment of the portfolio. Waste companies (Waste Management, Waste Connections) both outperformed during the period as both companies reported stellar results, supported by continued pricing power, which is expected to continue in 2024, while its cost inflation subsides, leading to potential margin expansion.

Responsible production segment also contributed positively in the period, although performance lagged the other two segments. Areas of strength including stocks in sustainable packaging and those with exposure to US housing, which remains a resilient end market despite the higher interest rate environment. Offsetting this was our most interest rate sensitive end markets such as water utilities and renewable energy companies, including residential solar installers.

Investment Outlook

We are optimistic that the multi-year tailwinds driving the transition to a more circular economy provide a compelling investment opportunity. These drivers are both economic and environmental. Economic drivers include a need to become more efficient in our consumption of resources. Environmental drivers include increased levels of regulation relating to waste management, production processes and consumer patterns.

While investors continue to pay premium valuations for growth companies, driving an extremely narrow market, we have built a well-balanced and diverse portfolio where we believe earnings growth will be better than the broader market in the coming years. Longer term, the drivers behind the transition to a circular economy are expected to become more vital as policymakers in both the public and private sectors invest to achieve their own economic and environmental targets.

Responsible Investment Activities Report prepared by the Investment Manager

Background Information:

KBI Global Investors has a strong commitment to Responsible Investing (RI) issues and has managed strategies with a Responsible Investment focus for more than three decades. We have been a signatory of the United Nations Principles for Responsible Investment (UNPRI) since 2007. Internally, we have robust Responsible Investment controls, policies and processes in place that govern our activities and a high-level Responsible Investing Committee to oversee all aspects of Responsible Investment policy and implementation (membership includes three of the five Executive Directors of the firm).

We implement Responsible Investing principles firstly because we believe that the use of ESG (Environmental, Social and Governance) factors has positive effects on the risk and return of investments and secondly because the use of RI principles in managing investments can help to achieve ESG goals which are worthy of achievement in their own right and which are also in the best interests of long-term investors.

Developments at the firm:

- We have been signatories of the UNPRI since 2007. The firm achieved the maximum possible rating from PRI (Principles for Responsible Investment), in each year since 2017, for all relevant modules assessed by the PRI.
- We participated in several collaborative engagements, usually on the topics of climate change and the disclosure of environmental information which have been identified by us as being our strategic areas of focus for engagement, both collaboratively and on a bilateral basis.
- The European Union Regulation on sustainability-related disclosures in the financial services sector ("SFDR") is now in effect and the vast majority of our assets under management have been designated as Article 8 and Article 9 under that regulation. We fully comply with the regulations and further information may be found on our website in this link https://www.kbiglobalinvestors.com/eu-sustainable-finance-disclosures2/
- We gave comments to Institutional Shareholder Services (ISS) and MSCI ESG Research on their annual consultation on their policies. In 2023, there was particular focus on climate but ultimately ISS decided not to incorporate these changes to its annual benchmark and specialty policy updates. As a result, we co-led an engagement asking ISS to expand the scope of its climate focus companies beyond CA100+, increase board climate accountability and incorporate climate risk as a Critical Audit Matter. We met with ISS specifically to discuss climate accounting and audit.
- We continued our programme of formal Responsible Investing training for staff using the courses of the PRI Academy. Most staff (and almost all investment and client-facing staff) have completed at least one PRI Academy training course. 10% of staff have obtained the CFA (Chartered Financial Analyst) Certificate in ESG Investing qualification.
- We also rolled out a sustainability training programme to all staff, provided by Vyra, an Irish environmental sustainability education platform. We conducted staff training on the European Union Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulations, EU Taxonomy, and SFDR disclosure requirements and reporting.
- Together with two other Irish investors, we set up the Investor Group initiative of the 30% Club in Ireland, and a member of KBI staff is the co-chair of the initiative. As asset owners and asset managers, we are committed to using our investor voice and influence to achieve and maintain a minimum of 30% gender representation on the board and at the executive management level of Irish companies.

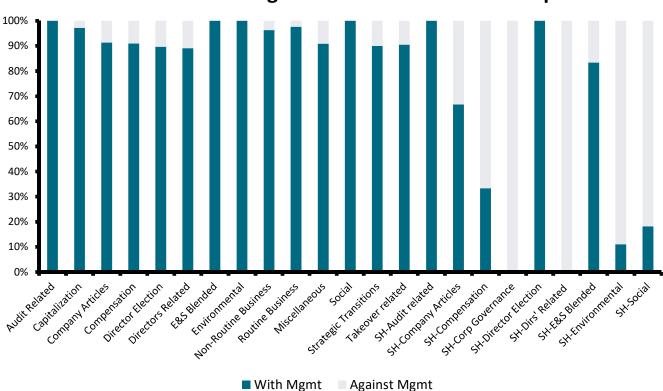

Proxy Voting

KBI Global Investors policy is to vote all securities that we are entitled to vote on behalf of our client portfolios. Proxies are voted in a manner which serves the long-term best interests of the portfolio.

In the six months to February 2024, we voted on 1,245 proposals worldwide at 155 meetings for the KBI Funds. We voted against management in 9.7% of all proposals, and we voted against management on 57% of shareholder proposals. Shareholder proposals are initiatives put forward by shareholders, usually requesting management to take action on particular issues.

Engagement

As a specialist boutique asset manager with focused resources, we endeavour to leverage relationships to engage in collective engagement when appropriate. We are members of The United Nations Principles for Responsible Investment (PRI), Climate Action (CA100+), The Institutional Investors Group on Climate Change (IIGCC), the Carbon Disclosure Project (CDP) and the Coalition for Environmentally Responsible Economies (CERES) Investors Network on Climate Risk.

Examples of collaborative engagement over the year include:

- Our collaborative engagement efforts were largely, though not exclusively, focused on climate change issues. We also became formal endorsers of the PRI initiative "Advance", a stewardship initiative for human rights and social issues and the PRI initiative "Spring", a stewardship initiative for nature.
- We are also a founding participant of Nature Action 100, an investor-led initiative to address nature loss and biodiversity decline and we participate in the groups of investors leading engagement with Bunge and Smurfit Kappa.
- We continue to participate in CA100+, an initiative led by some of the biggest investors and investor networks, including the PRI and the four main European, US and Asian climate change organisations (including IIGCC and CERES), to engage with the world's largest corporate greenhouse gas emitters to curb emissions, strengthen climate-related financial disclosures and improve governance on climate change. As part of CA100+, we are part of the groups of investors leading engagement with Enel (a large Italian manufacturer and distributor of electricity and gas), LyondellBasell (a multinational chemical company) and Marathon Petroleum (a US petroleum company).

- Audit Committee Chairs of carbon-intensive companies: As part of our collaborative engagement with auditors and audit committees, we wrote to the Audit Committee Chair at several carbon-intensive companies and copied other members of the company's audit committee as well as the lead audit partner.
 - We reiterated our expectations that the directors consider material climate risks in financial statements and underlined that boards should expect increasing votes against the audit committees reappointment and auditor where expectations continue not to be met.
 - Companies included: Anglo American, BASF, BHP, BMW, CRH, Daimler, Enel, Eon, Iberdrola, OMV, Repsol, Rio Tinto, Saint-Gobain, TotalEnergies SE and Volkswagen (via Porsche).
- We joined the CA100+ thematic working group on Accounting Disclosures. We also joined the engagement campaign asking for a meeting with the audit committees of several North American oil and gas companies to discuss the consideration of climate transition risk in the preparation of financial reports.
- As part of the ShareAction investor decarbonisation initiative with the European Chemicals sector since 2021, we wrote to several companies again in February 2023 and subsequently met with several companies through the year. We asked the companies to set targets over the short, medium and long term to phase in electrification of processes and increase energy consumption from renewable energy sources and to disclose plans to phase in emissions neutral feedstocks.
- We participated in the CDP Science-Based Targets (SBT) Campaign asking 2,100 high-impact companies selected by the CDP to commit to and set 1.5°C-aligned Science-Based Targets.

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the six months ended 29 February 2024

1. Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of preparation

These condensed Financial Statements for the financial period ended 29 February 2024 have been prepared in accordance with IAS 34 'Interim Financial Reporting' and interpretations adopted by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB") and Irish statute comprising the Irish Collective Asset-management Vehicles Act 2015 and pursuant to the European Communities (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations 2011 (the "UCITS Regulations") and the Central Bank (Supervision and Enforcement) Act 2013 (Section 48(1)) (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations").

They should be read in conjunction with the annual report and audited Financial Statements for the financial year ended 31 August 2023, which were prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") as adopted by the European Union ("EU").

The preparation of these condensed Financial Statements in conformity with IFRS requires the ICAV to make use of estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the Financial Statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the financial reporting period. Although these estimates are based on management's best knowledge of the amount, event or actions, actual results ultimately may differ from those estimates.

In preparing the Statement of Cash Flow under IFRS, cash and cash equivalents include cash at bank, highly liquid interest bearing securities with original maturities of three months or less and bank overdrafts.

The Financial Statements have been prepared on a going concern basis. At a Sub-Fund level, KBI Global Equity Fund and KBI ACWI Equity Fund terminated on 21 November 2022 and 11 May 2023, respectively and are in the process of revocation. KBI Circular Economy Fund launched on 19 September 2023. The ICAV is able to meet all of its liabilities from its assets. The performance and risks of the ICAV and its Sub-Funds are reviewed on a regular basis throughout the financial period. Therefore, the Directors believe that the ICAV will continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future and is financially sound. The Directors are satisfied that, at the time of approving the Financial Statements, it is appropriate to adopt the going concern basis in preparing the Financial Statements of the ICAV.

International Financial Reporting Standards

These Financial Statements have been prepared to existing standards and amendments to existing standards effective 1 September 2023.

New standards, amendments and interpretations issued but not yet effective for the year beginning 1 September 2023 and not early adopted

Certain new accounting standards and interpretations have been published that are not mandatory for 29 February 2024 reporting periods and have not been early adopted by the ICAV.

The following standards are not expected to have a material impact on the entity in the current or future reporting periods or on foreseeable future transactions:

- IFRS 17 Insurance contracts
- Amendments to IAS 1 and IFRS Practice Statement 2 Disclosure of Accounting Policies
- Amendments to IAS 8 Definition of Accounting Estimates

There are no standards, interpretations, or amendments to existing standards that are not yet effective that would be expected to have a significant impact on the ICAV.

3. Financial Risk Management

Fair Value of Financial Assets and Liabilities

Most of the Sub-Funds' financial instruments are carried at fair value on the Statement of Financial Position. Usually, the fair value of the financial instruments can be reliably determined within a reasonable range of estimates. For certain other financial instruments, including amounts due from/to brokers, accounts payable and accrued expenses, the carrying amounts approximate fair value due to the immediate or short-term nature of these financial instruments. The carrying value of all of the Sub-Funds' financial assets and liabilities at the Statement of Financial Position date approximated their fair values.

Fair Value Disclosure

IFRS 13 "Financial Instruments: Disclosure" requires disclosure relating to the fair value hierarchy in which fair value measurements are categorised for assets and liabilities in the Statement of Financial Position.

The disclosures are based on a three-level fair value hierarchy for the inputs used in valuation techniques to measure fair value.

The fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities traded in an active market (such as traded securities) are based on latest available quoted mid-market prices for Sub-Funds priced at midday and at the closing mid prices for other Sub-Funds.

A financial instrument is regarded as quoted in an active market if the quoted prices are readily and regularly available from an exchange, dealer, broker, industry group, pricing service or regulatory agency, and those prices represent actual and regularly occurring market transactions on an arm's length basis. The fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities that are not traded in an active market is determined by using valuation techniques. The Sub-Funds use a variety of methods and make assumptions that are based on market conditions existing at the financial period end date.

The Sub-Funds classify fair value measurements using a fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the measurements. The fair value hierarchy has the following levels:

- Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1);
- Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (that is, as prices) or indirectly (that is, derived from prices) (Level 2); or
- Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (that is, unobservable inputs) (Level 3).

- iii) An exchange of Redeemable Participating Shares arising on a qualifying amalgamation or reconstruction of the ICAV with another Sub-Fund.

A chargeable event will not occur in respect of Redeemable Participating Shareholders who are neither resident nor ordinarily resident in Ireland and who have provided the ICAV with a relevant declaration to that effect. There were 36 chargeable events during the financial period.

In the absence of an appropriate declaration, the ICAV will be liable for Irish tax on the occurrence of a chargeable event and the ICAV reserves its right to withhold such taxes from payments to relevant shareholders.

Capital gains, dividends and interest received may be subject to withholding taxes imposed by the country of origin and such taxes may not be recoverable by the ICAV or its Shareholders. A chargeable event includes any distribution payment to shareholders or any encashment, redemption or transfer of shares or an ending of a Relevant Period.
