What is this product?

Type: This investment fund is a sub-Fund of Legal & General UCITS ETF Plc (the "Company"), an umbrella investment company with variable capital and segregated liability between Funds. The Fund is authorised in Ireland and regulated by the Central Bank of Ireland.

Term: There is no fixed maturity date.

Objectives: The Fund is a passively managed exchange traded Fund that aims to track the performance of the Bloomberg Commodity Index 3 Month Forward Total Return (the "Index"), subject to the deduction of the ongoing charges and other costs associated with operating the Fund. Shares in this Share Class (the "Shares") are denominated in USD and can be bought and sold on stock exchanges by ordinary investors using an intermediary (e.g. a stockbroker). In normal circumstances, only Authorised Participants may buy and sell Shares directly with the Company. Authorised Participants may redeem their Shares on demand in accordance with the "Dealing Timetable" published on <http://www.lgim.com>. The Index provides a return equivalent to a fully "collateralised" investment in a diversified portfolio of commodity "futures contracts" across the following sectors: (1) Energy; (2) Precious Metals; (3) Industrial Metals; (4) Livestock; (5) Grains; and (6) Softs. The Index return is comprised of: (1) the "spot" return which reflects the day-to-day changes in the prices of the commodity futures contracts; (2) the "roll" return associated with periodically selling the futures contracts that are nearing their expiry dates with later-dated equivalents in order to maintain exposure to the commodity futures on an ongoing basis; and (3) the "collateral" return which reflects the interest that a commodity investor would earn where they deposit with a bank the cash that they will need to settle the contract at the future delivery date. The Index is a "longer dated" index which means that it refers to versions of the relevant commodity futures that have expiry dates further into the future than the versions of the commodity futures comprised in the Bloomberg Commodity Index. In order to provide the Share Class with exposure to the Index, the Company will primarily enter into "total return swap" agreements with one or more "swap counterparties" (i.e. investment banks) pursuant to which the Share Class receives the financial performance of the Index from the swap counterparties in return for a fee. The swap arrangements are "unfunded" which means that the Fund retains all investor subscription money (rather than transferring it to the swap counterparty) and invests it in a diversified portfolio of low risk assets. This Share Class does not intend to pay dividends. Any income which may result from the Fund's investments will be reinvested into the Fund. The depositary of the Fund is the Bank of New York Mellon SA/NV, Dublin Branch. Further information about the Fund and the share class can be obtained from the Company's prospectus and the annual and semi-annual reports, which are available, in addition to the latest prices for the unit class and details of any other unit classes, free of charge at: www.lgim.com.

Intended retail investor: The Fund is designed for investors: (1) looking to grow their money in an investment which can form part of their existing savings portfolio; and (2) familiar with commodity futures contracts and the particular features of the Index, including spot, roll and collateral return. Although investors can take their money out at any time, the Fund may not be appropriate for those who plan to withdraw their money within five years. The Fund is not designed for investors who cannot afford more than a minimal loss of their investment.

What is the risk and what could I get in return?

Typically Lower rewards ← | → Typically higher rewards

Lower Risk | Higher Risk

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product for 5 year(s). The actual risk can vary significantly if you cash in at an early stage and you may get back less. You may not be able to sell your product easily or you may have to sell at a price that significantly impacts on how much you get back.

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you.

We have classified this product as class 4 out of 7, which is a medium risk class.

The prices of the futures contracts comprised in the Index may fluctuate rapidly based on numerous factors, including supply and demand relationships, weather, agriculture, trade, economic or political events, technological developments, interest rates and governmental policies.

The value of the Fund may be affected by risks not in the SRI, including failure of a swap counterparty, custodian, issuer or index provider and derivative use.

Favourable scenario: 05/2017 to 05/2022

This table shows the money you could get back over the next 5 year(s), under different scenarios, assuming that you invest 10,000.00 USD.

The unfavourable, moderate, and favourable scenarios shown are illustrations using the worst, average, and best performance of the product over the last 10 years. Markets could develop very differently in the future.

The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself, but may not include all the costs that you pay to your advisor or distributor. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back.

Market developments in the future cannot be accurately predicted. The scenarios shown are only an indication of some of the possible outcomes based on recent returns. Actual returns could be lower.

What happens if LGIM Managers (Europe) Limited is unable to pay out?

If LGIM Managers (Europe) Limited defaults, investors in the Fund would not face any financial losses. However, the value of an investment and any income taken from it is not guaranteed and can go down as well as up, you may not get back the amount you originally invested. The fund is not covered by an investor compensation scheme.

What are the costs?

The Reduction in Yield (RIY) shows what impact the total costs you pay will have on the investment return you might get. The total costs take into account one-off, ongoing and incidental costs.

The amounts shown here are the cumulative costs of the product itself, for the holding period(s). They include potential early exit penalties. The figures assume you invest 10,000.00 USD. The figures are estimates and may change in the future.

Costs over time

The tables show the amounts that are taken from your investment to cover different types of costs. These amounts depend on how much you invest and how long you hold the product. The amounts shown here are illustrations based on an example investment amount and different possible investment periods.

We may share part of the costs with the person selling you the product to cover the services they provide to you. They will inform you of the amount.

These figures include the maximum distribution fee that the person selling you the product may charge. This person will inform you of the actual distribution fee.

We have assumed:

- In the first year you would get back the amount that you invested (0 % annual return). For the other holding periods we have assumed the product performs as shown in the moderate scenario.
- USD 10,000/1,000 per year is invested.

Investment USD 10,000	If you cash in after 1 year	If you cash in after 5 years
Total costs	31.00 USD	118.00 USD
Impact on return (RIY) per year	0.31%	0.29%

Composition of costs

The table below shows:

- The impact each year of the different types of costs on the investment return you might get at the end of the recommended holding period.
- What the different cost categories mean.

Incidental costs taken under specific conditions
Performance fees and carried interest	0.00% There is no performance fee for this product.	0.00 USD

How long should I hold it and can I take my money out early?

An investor can hold their investment for any time period but 5 year(s) is recommended.

The recommended holding period of 5 years has been selected for illustrative purposes only. Commodity investments should be seen as long-term investments however there is no minimum (or maximum) holding period for the Shares. The Shares can be sold by ordinary investors using an intermediary (e.g. a stockbroker) when the markets on which they trade are open. An intermediary is likely to apply a commission to purchases and sales.

The above mentioned period has been defined in accordance to the product characteristics.

How can I complain?

Complaints can be made in writing to complaints@lgim.com or to LGIM Managers (Europe) Ltd, 70 Sir John Rogerson's Quay, Dublin 2, DO2 R296, Ireland.
