What is this Product?

Objectives:

The Product aims to track the BofA Merrill Lynch Commodity Index eXtra AF5T Total Return Index (the "Index"), providing a market neutral exposure to commodity markets.

The Index is based on sub-indices comprised of the principal commodity sectors: energy, base metals and grains and oil seeds. The Index takes a long position in the BofA Merrill Lynch Commodity MLCXA1 Excess Return Strategy (the "MLCXA1E Index") and a corresponding short position in the Bloomberg Commodity ex-Precious Metals IndexSM (the "BCOMXPM Index"). A party agreeing to buy an asset, is said to take a "long" position in an asset and a party agreeing to sell the asset is said to take a "short" position. The Index aims to exploit the difference in the performance of the sub-indices on a five times leveraged basis. The Product will use swaps to implement its investment strategy and forward currency contracts for share class hedging purposes. In the case of swaps, the Product will exchange interest rate flow with a counterparty for a return based on the Index. The Product can enter into one or more cash management transactions such as a reverse repurchase agreement (under which the Product will buy securities from a counterparty, with an agreement to sell back such securities at a future date), or the purchase of a portfolio of transferable securities, money market instruments, and/or collective investment undertakings, to generate interest rate flows. Returns can be expected from a combination of capital growth and income.

The benchmark index for this share class is published separately on Bloomberg under the ticker MLCXAF5T Index.

The return of the Product is also related to the recommended holding period and risk and reward profile.

Unless otherwise defined in this document, all words and expressions defined in the Product's current prospectus shall have the same meaning herein.

What are the risks and what could I get in return?

Risk Indicator

The risk indicator assumes you keep the Product for 5 years.

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this Product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the Product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you.

We have classified this Product as 3 out of 7, which is a medium-low risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a medium-low level, and poor market conditions are unlikely to impact our capacity to pay you.

Be aware of currency risk if your reference currency differs from the currency of the Product. You may receive payments in a different currency, so the final return you will get depends on the exchange rate between the two currencies. This risk is not considered in the indicator shown above.

Please refer to the Product's prospectus for a full list of risks which can affect the overall Product value.

This Product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment. If we are not able to pay you what is owed, you could lose your entire investment.

Performance Scenarios

The figures shown include all the costs of the Product itself, but may not include all the costs that you pay to your advisor or distributor. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back. What you will get from this Product depends on future market performance. Market developments in the future are uncertain and cannot be accurately predicted.

The unfavourable, moderate, and favourable scenarios shown are illustrations using the worst, average and best performance of the Product and/or its benchmark over the last 10 years. Markets could develop very differently in the future. The stress scenario shows what you might get back in extreme market circumstances.

What happens if Generali Investments Luxembourg S.A. is unable to pay out?

You are not covered by any investor compensation or guarantee scheme. To protect you, your assets are held with a separate company, the Depository. While you will not face a financial loss should we default, in the event of the Depository's default you may suffer a financial loss. This risk is mitigated as the Depository is required to segregate its own assets from the assets of the Fund. However, the risk does still exist and you could lose your entire investment.

What are the costs?

The person advising on or selling this Product may charge you other costs. If so, this person will provide you with information about these costs and how they affect your investment.

Table 1: Costs over time

The tables show the amounts that are taken from your investment to cover different types of costs. These amounts depend on how much you invest, how long you hold the Product and how well the Product does. The amounts shown here are illustrations based on an example investment amount and different possible investment periods. We have assumed:

- In the first year you would get back the amount that you invested (0% annual return). For the other holding periods we have assumed the Product performs as shown in the moderate scenario.
- EUR 10,000 is invested.

	If you exit after 1 year	If you exit after 5 years
Total Costs	EUR 665	EUR 1,644
Annual Cost Impact (*)	6.7%	2.8% each year

* This illustrates how costs reduce your return each year over the holding period. For example it shows that if you exit at the recommended holding period your average return per year is projected to be 8.0% before costs and 5.1% after costs.

How long should I hold it and can I take money out early?

Recommended holding period: 5 years

The Product has no required minimum holding period but is designed for long term investments; you should be prepared to stay invested for at least 5 years. However, you can redeem your investment without penalty at any time during this period, or hold the investment longer. The impact of cashing in early could result in a lower return.
