- This synthetic risk and reward indicator is a risk indicator based on historical volatility and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Class.
- The Risk and Reward Category shown is not a target or a guarantee and may shift over time.
- The lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment.
- The Risk and Reward Category results from the exposure through the Sub-Fund's investments to bond markets but also to the equity market, as convertible bonds embed an equity component.

Risks to which the Sub-Fund may be exposed and which may not be reflected in the indicator:

- Debt instruments and deposits credit risk: The Sub-fund may invest in debt instruments and deposits. They are subject to the risk that their issuer may not be able to meet its obligations.
- Derivatives counterparty risk: If a derivatives counterparty defaults and is unable to meet its contractual obligations, its value may become nil.
- Liquidity risk: The Sub-Fund may invest in securities that are less liquid because active buyers or sellers are not always in sufficient numbers to trade these securities readily. These securities will be more strongly affected by market conditions and may cause delays when facing redemptions in stressed market situations.
- Safekeeping risk: The Sub-Fund's operations may depend on third parties that are located in countries where securities oversight standards are less developed.
- Third parties risk: The failure of the third parties on which the Sub-Fund's operations depend may cause disruptions and losses.
