Market risk - The Fund invests in equities or equity-related securities, and these can rise or fall due to a number of factors affecting individual companies and local or global stock markets.

Emerging markets risk - Investing in emerging markets carries a higher risk (e.g. larger price fluctuations) than a developed market. Some of the investments may be subject to low liquidity, making them hard to buy or sell at short notice.

Operational risk - The inability to make timely security purchases or disposals due to administrative/settlement problems may result in missed potential gains or undesirable losses to the Fund.

Counterparty risk - The insolvency of any institutions providing services such as safekeeping of assets or acting as counterparty to derivatives or other instruments, may expose the Fund to financial loss.

Derivatives risk - Financial derivative instruments are complex instruments whose performance and value are directly linked to the performance or value of underlying assets and will fluctuate depending on the market of such underlying assets. There can be no assurance that the objective sought by using derivatives will be achieved. The use of derivatives may result in greater fluctuations of the net asset value of the Fund.

Liquidity risk - In some circumstances, investments may become relatively illiquid making it difficult to dispose of them at the prices quoted on the various exchanges or other markets. Accordingly, a Sub-Fund's ability to respond to market movements may be impaired and the Sub-Fund may experience adverse price movements upon liquidation of its investments. Settlement transactions may be subject to delay and administrative uncertainties.
