Vanguard ESG USD Corporate Bond UCITS ETF

Managed by Vanguard Global Advisers, LLC.

Investment Objective

Vanguard ESG USD Corporate Bond UCITS ETF seeks to track the performance of the Bloomberg MSCI USD Corporate Float-Adjusted Liquid Bond Screened Index, a USD denominated universe of investment grade corporate fixed-rate bonds.

Performance Summary

The Performance Summary does not form part of the Financial Statements.

- Global financial markets remained volatile in the second half of 2022. Market sentiment improved early in the period amid signs of continuing strength in the labour market, corporate earnings that were more resilient than expected and some cooling in energy prices. Although price increases then broadened to other categories of goods and services, they eventually began to come down from multidecade highs.
- With inflation looking like it may have peaked in many developed markets, central banks including the US Federal Reserve, the European Central Bank and the Bank of England continued tightening monetary policy but began slowing the pace of their interest rate hikes late in the year.
- Bond yields across many developed markets continued to rise, especially for bonds with very short maturities, which tend to be more sensitive to changes in central bank policy rates. With rising yields pushing prices down, global bonds ended the period in negative territory.
- The ETF was launched 15 November 2022. It promotes environmental and social characteristics by excluding companies from its portfolio based on the impact of their conduct or products on society and/or the environment. This is met by tracking the Bloomberg Barclays MSCI Global Corporate Float-Adjusted Liquid Bond Screened Index. The ETF's benchmark is constructed from the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Corporate – United States Dollar Index. The parent index is screened for certain environmental, social and corporate governance criteria by the sponsor, which is independent of Vanguard.
- The index methodology also excludes the bonds of issuers that, as determined by MSCI, have no controversy score or a controversy score of less than one as defined by MSCI's ESG controversies assessment framework.
- For the very short period from the ETF's inception through 31 December, the benchmark returned 1.12%.

Benchmark returns in the commentary above are in US dollars.

All of the returns in this report represent past performance, which is not a guarantee of future results that may be achieved by the fund. For performance data current to the most recent month-end, which may be higher or lower than that cited, visit our website at <http://global.vanguard.com>. Note, too, that both investment returns and principal value can fluctuate widely, so an investor's shares, when sold, could be worth more or less than their original cost.

* The tracking difference between the fund return and the index return over a stated period of time can be attributed to a number of factors, including, without limitation, small differences in weightings, trading activity, transaction costs and differences in the valuation and withholding tax treatment between the fund and the index vendor.

Vanguard EUR Corporate Bond UCITS ETF

Managed by Vanguard Global Advisers, LLC.

Investment Objective

Vanguard EUR Corporate Bond UCITS ETF seeks to track the performance of the Bloomberg Euro-Aggregate: Corporates Index, a widely recognised benchmark designed to reflect the total universe of publicly traded, fixed-coupon, euro-denominated, investment-grade corporate bonds with maturities greater than 1 year and a minimum issue size of €300 million.

Performance Summary

- Global financial markets remained volatile in the second half of 2022. Market sentiment improved early in the period amid signs of continuing strength in the labour market, corporate earnings that were more resilient than expected and some cooling in energy prices. Although price increases then broadened to other categories of goods and services, they eventually began to come down from multidecade highs.
- With inflation looking like it may have peaked in many developed markets, central banks including the Federal Reserve, the European Central Bank and the Bank of England continued tightening monetary policy but began slowing the pace of their interest rate hikes late in the year.
- Bond yields across many developed markets continued to rise, especially for bonds with very short maturities, which tend to be more sensitive to changes in central bank policy rates. With rising yields pushing prices down, global bonds ended the period in negative territory.
- The ETF's benchmark returned -2.00% for the six months ended 31 December 2022.
- Among the largest constituents in the index, Switzerland, Germany and the United States underperformed the benchmark. Italy, Austria and Australia were among those that fared better but still finished the period in negative territory.
- By sector, bonds issued by utilities weighed less on results than those issued by industrial companies and financial institutions.
- Longer-dated and higher-quality bonds generally underperformed.

Benchmark returns in the commentary above are in euros.

All of the returns in this report represent past performance, which is not a guarantee of future results that may be achieved by the fund. For performance data current to the most recent month-end, which may be higher or lower than that cited, visit our website at <http://global.vanguard.com>. Note, too, that both investment returns and principal value can fluctuate widely, so an investor's shares, when sold, could be worth more or less than their original cost.

* The tracking difference between the fund return and the index return over a stated period of time can be attributed to a number of factors, including, without limitation, small differences in weightings, trading activity, transaction costs and differences in the valuation and withholding tax treatment between the fund and the index vendor.

Vanguard EUR Eurozone Government Bond UCITS ETF

Managed by Vanguard Global Advisers, LLC.

Investment Objective

Vanguard EUR Eurozone Government Bond UCITS ETF seeks to track the performance of the Bloomberg Euro-Aggregate: Treasury Index, a widely recognised benchmark designed to reflect the total universe of publicly traded, fixed-coupon, euro-denominated euro zone treasury securities with maturities greater than 1 year and a minimum issue size of €300 million.

Performance Summary

- Global financial markets remained volatile in the second half of 2022. Market sentiment improved early in the period amid signs of continuing strength in the labour market, corporate earnings that were more resilient than expected and some cooling in energy prices. Although price increases then broadened to other categories of goods and services, they eventually began to come down from multidecade highs.
- With inflation looking like it may have peaked in many developed markets, central banks including the US Federal Reserve, the European Central Bank and the Bank of England continued tightening monetary policy but began slowing the pace of their interest rate hikes late in the year.
- Bond yields across many developed markets continued to rise, especially for bonds with very short maturities, which tend to be more sensitive to changes in central bank policy rates. With rising yields pushing prices down, global bonds ended the period in negative territory.
- The ETF's benchmark returned -7.07% for the six months ended 31 December 2022.
- Among the markets with large weightings in the index, Italy and Spain held up slightly better than the benchmark, while France, Germany, Belgium and the Netherlands fared slightly worse.
- From a credit-quality perspective, lower-rated bonds held up better. By maturity, shorter-dated bonds mostly performed better.

Benchmark returns in the commentary above are in euros.

All of the returns in this report represent past performance, which is not a guarantee of future results that may be achieved by the fund. For performance data current to the most recent month-end, which may be higher or lower than that cited, visit our website at <http://global.vanguard.com>. Note, too, that both investment returns and principal value can fluctuate widely, so an investor's shares, when sold, could be worth more or less than their original cost.

* The tracking difference between the fund return and the index return over a stated period of time can be attributed to a number of factors, including, without limitation, small differences in weightings, trading activity, transaction costs and differences in the valuation and withholding tax treatment between the fund and the index vendor.

The Central Bank of Ireland requires a schedule of material changes in the composition of the portfolio during the period. These are defined as aggregate purchases of a security exceeding 1% of the total value of purchases for the period and aggregate disposals greater than 1% of the total value of sales. At a minimum, the largest 20 purchases and 20 sales must be shown; all purchases and sales must be shown if there are fewer than 20. A full listing of the portfolio changes for the period is available, upon request, at no extra cost from the Administrator.

Managed by Vanguard Global Advisers, LLC.

Investment Objective

Vanguard Global Aggregate Bond UCITS ETF seeks to track the performance of the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Float Adjusted and Scaled Index Hedged, a widely recognised benchmark designed to reflect the characteristics of the global aggregate bond universe.

Performance Summary

- Global financial markets remained volatile in the second half of 2022. Market sentiment improved early in the period amid signs of continuing strength in the labour market, corporate earnings that were more resilient than expected and some cooling in energy prices. Although price increases then broadened to other categories of goods and services, they eventually began to come down from multidecade highs.
- With inflation looking like it may have peaked in many developed markets, central banks including the US Federal Reserve, the European Central Bank and the Bank of England continued tightening monetary policy but began slowing the pace of their interest rate hikes late in the year.
- Bond yields across many developed markets continued to rise, especially for bonds with very short maturities, which tend to be more sensitive to changes in central bank policy rates. With rising yields pushing prices down, global bonds ended the period in negative territory.
- The ETF's benchmark index returned -2.87% for the six months ended 31 December 2022.
- The United States, the largest constituent in the index by far, underperformed the benchmark, as did France and Germany. While in negative territory, Japan outperformed. Canada had a positive return.
- Treasuries, which accounted for roughly half of the index, underperformed, as did securitised debt. Corporate bonds outpaced the index, with bonds issued by financial institutions performing the best.
- Lower-quality and shorter-term bonds also tended to outperform.

All ETF benchmark returns in the commentary above are in US dollars.

All of the returns in this report represent past performance, which is not a guarantee of future results that may be achieved by the fund. For performance data current to the most recent month-end, which may be higher or lower than that cited, visit our website at <http://global.vanguard.com>. Note, too, that both investment returns and principal value can fluctuate widely, so an investor's shares, when sold, could be worth more or less than their original cost.

* The tracking difference between the fund return and the index return over a stated period of time can be attributed to a number of factors, including, without limitation, small differences in weightings, trading activity, transaction costs and differences in the valuation and withholding tax treatment between the fund and the index vendor.

Investment Objective

Vanguard U.K. Gilt UCITS ETF seeks to track the performance of the Bloomberg Sterling Gilt Float Adjusted Index, a market-weighted index of UK government fixed income securities denominated in pound sterling.

Performance Summary

- Global financial markets remained volatile in the second half of 2022. Market sentiment improved early in the period amid signs of continuing strength in the labour market, corporate earnings that were more resilient than expected and some cooling in energy prices. Although price increases then broadened to other categories of goods and services, they eventually began to come down from multidecade highs.
- With inflation looking like it may have peaked in many developed markets, central banks including the US Federal Reserve and the European Central Bank continued tightening monetary policy but began slowing the pace of their interest rate hikes late in the year. The Bank of England raised rates four times during the six months, ending the year at 3.5%, as it sought to stabilise bond markets amid political and economic uncertainty.
- Bond yields across many developed markets continued to rise, especially for bonds with very short maturities, which tend to be more sensitive to changes in central bank policy rates. With rising yields pushing prices down, global bonds ended the period in negative territory.
- In this environment, the ETF's benchmark index returned -12.99% for the six months ended 31 December 2022.
- The difference in yields between 2-year and 10-year government bonds finished the third quarter inverted (10-year yields were lower than 2-year yields, which is often seen as an indicator of recession), but this trend reversed in the fourth quarter. Two-year yields rose 1.8 percentage points over the six months to finish at 3.58%, and 10-year yields rose 1.5 percentage points to finish at 3.67%.
- Gilts maturing in less than 10 years posted single-digit declines, while declines for longer-dated gilts were in the double digits.
- Gilts underperformed the broad UK investment-grade bond market.

All of the returns in this report represent past performance, which is not a guarantee of future results that may be achieved by the fund. For performance data current to the most recent month-end, which may be higher or lower than that cited, visit our website at <http://global.vanguard.com>. Note, too, that both investment returns and principal value can fluctuate widely, so an investor's shares, when sold, could be worth more or less than their original cost.

* The tracking difference between the fund return and the index return over a stated period of time can be attributed to a number of factors, including, without limitation, small differences in weightings, trading activity, transaction costs and differences in the valuation and withholding tax treatment between the fund and the index vendor.

Vanguard U.S. Treasury 0–1 Year Bond UCITS ETF

Managed by Vanguard Global Advisers, LLC.

Investment Objective

Vanguard U.S. Treasury 0–1 Year Bond UCITS ETF seeks to track the performance of the Bloomberg Short Treasury Index, a widely recognised benchmark designed to measure the performance of US dollar-denominated bonds paying a fixed rate of interest issued by the US government.

Performance Summary

- Global financial markets remained volatile in the second half of 2022. Market sentiment improved early in the period amid signs of continuing strength in the labour market, corporate earnings that were more resilient than expected and some cooling in energy prices. Although price increases then broadened to other categories of goods and services, they eventually began to come down from multidecade highs.
- With inflation looking like it may have peaked in many developed markets, central banks including the US Federal Reserve, the European Central Bank and the Bank of England continued tightening monetary policy but began slowing the pace of their interest rate hikes late in the year.
- Bond yields across many developed markets continued to rise, especially for bonds with very short maturities, which tend to be more sensitive to changes in central bank policy rates. With rising yields pushing prices lower, global bonds ended the period down more than 2% in US dollars, as measured by the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Bond Index.
- In this environment, the ETF's benchmark index returned 1.13% for the six months ended 31 December 2022.
- With rising rates, the US Treasury yield curve inverted even further during the six months. Longer-duration bonds underperformed the most. Shorter-term Treasuries posted modest gains in total returns.

Benchmark returns in the commentary above are in US dollars.

All of the returns in this report represent past performance, which is not a guarantee of future results that may be achieved by the fund. For performance data current to the most recent month-end, which may be higher or lower than that cited, visit our website at <http://global.vanguard.com>. Note, too, that both investment returns and principal value can fluctuate widely, so an investor's shares, when sold, could be worth more or less than their original cost.

* The tracking difference between the fund return and the index return over a stated period of time can be attributed to a number of factors, including, without limitation, small differences in weightings, trading activity, transaction costs and differences in the valuation and withholding tax treatment between the fund and the index vendor.

Vanguard USD Corporate 1–3 Year Bond UCITS ETF

Managed by Vanguard Global Advisers, LLC.

Investment Objective

Vanguard USD Corporate 1–3 Year Bond UCITS ETF seeks to track the performance of the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Corporate – United States Dollar Index 1–3 Year, a widely recognised benchmark designed to reflect the total universe of publicly traded, fixed-coupon, US dollar-denominated corporate debt securities with maturities of between 1 and 3 years.

Performance Summary

- Global financial markets remained volatile in the second half of 2022. Market sentiment improved early in the period amid signs of continuing strength in the labour market, corporate earnings that were more resilient than expected and some cooling in energy prices. Although price increases then broadened to other categories of goods and services, they eventually began to come down from multidecade highs.
- With inflation looking like it may have peaked in many developed markets, central banks including the US Federal Reserve, the European Central Bank and the Bank of England continued tightening monetary policy but began slowing the pace of their interest rate hikes late in the year.
- Bond yields across many developed markets continued to rise, especially for bonds with very short maturities, which tend to be more sensitive to changes in central bank policy rates. With rising yields pushing prices lower, global bonds ended the period down more than 2% in US dollars, as measured by the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Bond Index.
- In this environment, the ETF's benchmark index returned 0.10% for the six months ended 31 December 2022.
- All three sectors in the index posted small positive total returns for the six-month period. By credit rating, lower-rated bonds performed better. The differences were negligible.

Benchmark returns in the commentary above are in US dollars.

All of the returns in this report represent past performance, which is not a guarantee of future results that may be achieved by the fund. For performance data current to the most recent month-end, which may be higher or lower than that cited, visit our website at <http://global.vanguard.com>. Note, too, that both investment returns and principal value can fluctuate widely, so an investor's shares, when sold, could be worth more or less than their original cost.

* The tracking difference between the fund return and the index return over a stated period of time can be attributed to a number of factors, including, without limitation, small differences in weightings, trading activity, transaction costs and differences in the valuation and withholding tax treatment between the fund and the index vendor.

Vanguard USD Corporate Bond UCITS ETF

Managed by Vanguard Global Advisers, LLC.

Investment Objective

Vanguard USD Corporate Bond UCITS ETF seeks to track the performance of the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Corporate – United States Dollar Index, a widely recognised benchmark designed to reflect the total universe of publicly traded, fixed-coupon, US dollar-denominated investment-grade corporate bonds with maturities greater than 1 year and a minimum issue size of $250 million.

Performance Summary

- Global financial markets remained volatile in the second half of 2022. Market sentiment improved early in the period amid signs of continuing strength in the labour market, corporate earnings that were more resilient than expected and some cooling in energy prices. Although price increases then broadened to other categories of goods and services, they eventually began to come down from multidecade highs.
- With inflation looking like it may have peaked in many developed markets, central banks including the US Federal Reserve, the European Central Bank and the Bank of England continued tightening monetary policy but began slowing the pace of their interest rate hikes late in the year.
- Bond yields across many developed markets continued to rise, especially for bonds with very short maturities, which tend to be more sensitive to changes in central bank policy rates. With rising yields pushing prices lower, global bonds ended the period down more than 2% in US dollars, as measured by the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Bond Index.
- In the United States, the yield of the 2-year US Treasury note rose 147 basis points over the period to 4.43% while the yield of the bellwether 10-year US Treasury note climbed 86 basis points to 3.87%. (A basis point is one-hundredth of a percentage point.) The average yield spread between US corporate bonds and US Treasuries ended the period narrower.
- The ETF's benchmark index returned –1.54% for the six months ended 31 December 2022.
- By sector, bonds issued by utilities and industrial companies underperformed.
- By maturity and quality, longer-dated and higher-quality bonds generally underperformed.

Benchmark returns in the commentary above are in US dollars.

All of the returns in this report represent past performance, which is not a guarantee of future results that may be achieved by the fund. For performance data current to the most recent month-end, which may be higher or lower than that cited, visit our website at <http://global.vanguard.com>. Note, too, that both investment returns and principal value can fluctuate widely, so an investor's shares, when sold, could be worth more or less than their original cost.

* The tracking difference between the fund return and the index return over a stated period of time can be attributed to a number of factors, including, without limitation, small differences in weightings, trading activity, transaction costs and differences in the valuation and withholding tax treatment between the fund and the index vendor.

Vanguard USD Emerging Markets Government Bond UCITS ETF

Managed by Vanguard Global Advisers, LLC.

Investment Objective

Vanguard USD Emerging Markets Government Bond UCITS ETF seeks to track the performance of the Bloomberg EM USD Sovereign + Quasi-Sov Index, a widely recognised benchmark designed to reflect the total universe of US dollar-denominated publicly traded debt (with maturities greater than 1 year and a minimum issue size of $500 million) issued by sovereign and quasi-sovereign emerging-market issuers. Quasi-sovereign issuers include entities that are government-guaranteed and/or government-sponsored, entities that are more than 50% government-owned and local authorities.

Performance Summary

- Global financial markets remained volatile in the second half of 2022. Market sentiment improved early in the period amid signs of continuing strength in the labour market, corporate earnings that were more resilient than expected and some cooling in energy prices. Although price increases then broadened to other categories of goods and services, they eventually began to come down from multidecade highs.
- With inflation looking like it may have peaked in many developed markets, central banks including the US Federal Reserve, the European Central Bank and the Bank of England continued tightening monetary policy but began slowing the pace of their interest rate hikes late in the year.
- Bond yields across many developed markets continued to rise, especially for bonds with very short maturities, which tend to be more sensitive to changes in central bank policy rates. With rising yields pushing prices down, global bonds ended the period in negative territory.
- For the six months ended 31 December 2022, the ETF's benchmark index returned 2.50%.
- More than 60% of the ETF's holdings at the end of the period consisted of sovereign debt, which returned 3.38%. The remainder was mostly securities issued by government agencies, which returned 1.19%.
- Among the countries with the largest weightings in the index, Argentina, Turkey, Colombia, Brazil and Mexico outperformed. China, South Korea and Saudi Arabia were among the laggards.
- By credit quality, bonds rated below investment grade generally produced strong returns. Results by maturity were mixed; the shortest- and longest-dated bonds underperformed.

Benchmark returns in the commentary above are in US dollars.

All of the returns in this report represent past performance, which is not a guarantee of future results that may be achieved by the fund. For performance data current to the most recent month-end, which may be higher or lower than that cited, visit our website at <http://global.vanguard.com>. Note, too, that both investment returns and principal value can fluctuate widely, so an investor's shares, when sold, could be worth more or less than their original cost.

* The tracking difference between the fund return and the index return over a stated period of time can be attributed to a number of factors, including, without limitation, small differences in weightings, trading activity, transaction costs and differences in the valuation and withholding tax treatment between the fund and the index vendor.

Vanguard USD Treasury Bond UCITS ETF

Managed by Vanguard Global Advisers, LLC.

Investment Objective

Vanguard USD Treasury Bond UCITS ETF seeks to track the performance of the Bloomberg Global Aggregate U.S. Treasury Float Adjusted Index, a widely recognised benchmark designed to reflect the total universe of publicly traded, fixed-coupon, US dollar-denominated US Treasury securities with maturities greater than 1 year and a minimum issue size of $300 million.

Performance Summary

- Global financial markets remained volatile in the second half of 2022. Market sentiment improved early in the period amid signs of continuing strength in the labour market, corporate earnings that were more resilient than expected and some cooling in energy prices. Although price increases then broadened to other categories of goods and services, they eventually began to come down from multidecade highs.
- With inflation looking like it may have peaked in many developed markets, central banks including the US Federal Reserve, the European Central Bank and the Bank of England continued tightening monetary policy but began slowing the pace of their interest rate hikes late in the year.
- Bond yields across many developed markets continued to rise, especially for bonds with very short maturities, which tend to be more sensitive to changes in central bank policy rates. With rising yields pushing prices lower, global bonds ended the period down more than 2% in US dollars, as measured by the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Bond Index.
- In this environment, the ETF's benchmark index returned -3.66% for the six months ended 31 December 2022.
- With rising rates, the US Treasury yield curve inverted even further during the six months. Longer-duration bonds underperformed the most. With more than half of the index's weighting in securities maturing in less than five years, the decline was relatively modest for the overall index.

Benchmark returns in the commentary above are in US dollars.

All of the returns in this report represent past performance, which is not a guarantee of future results that may be achieved by the fund. For performance data current to the most recent month-end, which may be higher or lower than that cited, visit our website at <http://global.vanguard.com>. Note, too, that both investment returns and principal value can fluctuate widely, so an investor's shares, when sold, could be worth more or less than their original cost.

* The tracking difference between the fund return and the index return over a stated period of time can be attributed to a number of factors, including, without limitation, small differences in weightings, trading activity, transaction costs and differences in the valuation and withholding tax treatment between the fund and the index vendor.

2. Basis of Presentation. The financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting standards generally accepted in Ireland, including Financial Reporting Standard ("FRS") 102 and 104, Irish statute comprising the Companies Act 2014, as amended, the UCITS Regulations, the Central Bank (Supervision and Enforcement) Act 2013 (Section 48(1)) (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations 2019 (the "CBI UCITS Regulations") and the Listing Rules of the Euronext Dublin Exchange. Accounting standards generally accepted in Ireland in preparing financial statements which present a true and fair view are those published by the Institute of Chartered Accountants in Ireland and issued by the Financial Reporting Council (the "FRC").

The Company has determined that the headings and sub-headings of the financial statements require adaptation from the requirements in the Companies Act 2014 to more appropriately reflect the Company's business as an investment fund.

Cash Flow Statements have not been presented due to the exemption contained in FRS 102, Section 7.1A.

The information required by FRS 102 to be included in a statement of comprehensive income is contained in the Statement of Operations of each Fund and the Company.

The financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, subject to the historical cost convention, as modified by the revaluation of financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss ("FVTPL").

Cross Investments. The Asset Allocation Funds invest in other Funds of the Company, which are disclosed in each Fund's Statement of Investments. These cross investments and any related movements in realised or unrealised gains and losses on these investments have been eliminated in the Company financial statements (30 June 2022: same).

3. Significant Accounting Policies.

The unaudited financial statements should be read in conjunction with the relevant Fund's annual audited financial statements for the year ended 30 June 2022. There have been no changes to the significant accounting policies adopted by the Funds since the last audited period, and the accounting policies have been consistently applied to all periods presented, unless otherwise stated.

4. Risk Management Policies.

The Funds' investments in financial instruments create a direct exposure to a variety of risks. The Funds may also make investments in other underlying funds. The financial instruments which constitute these other underlying funds generally expose the Funds to indirect risks resulting from currency, interest rate, other price risk and credit risk.

Funds may trade in financial derivative instruments such as exchange traded futures and options contracts (to manage cash flows on a short term basis and to achieve cost efficiencies), warrants, swap agreements and equity-linked notes (to gain market exposure or exposure to a particular asset class) and currency forwards (to protect against currency fluctuations). The use of financial derivative instruments may expose the Funds to a higher degree of risk. In particular, financial derivative instruments contracts can be highly volatile, and the initial investment is generally small relative to the size of the contract so that transactions may be leveraged in terms of market exposure. A relatively small market movement may have a potentially larger impact on financial derivative instruments than on standard securities. Leveraged financial derivative instruments positions can therefore increase Fund volatility. Global exposure is measured and monitored using the commitment approach. Leverage will not exceed 100% of the net asset value of the relevant Fund and will be done in accordance with regulations applicable to the Funds.

Significant market disruptions, such as those caused by pandemics (e.g., COVID-19 pandemic), natural or environmental disasters, war (e.g., Russia's invasion of Ukraine), acts of terrorism, or other events, can adversely affect local and global markets and normal market operations. Any such disruptions could have an adverse impact on the value of the Funds' investments and Funds' performance.

The Manager seeks to minimise potential adverse effects of risk on the Funds' performance by employing professional, experienced portfolio advisors; by daily monitoring of the Funds' positions and market events; by diversifying the investment portfolio within the constraints of the investment objectives; and by periodically using derivatives to economically hedge certain risk exposures.

Price Risk. Price risk is the risk that the value of financial instruments and collective investment schemes will fluctuate because of changes in the market. The Investment Manager considers the asset allocation of the portfolio in order to minimise the risk associated with particular countries or industry sectors while continuing to follow the stated investment objective.

The investment objective for an index fund and index-tracking collective investment schemes is to seek to track as closely as reasonably possible the performance of the benchmark indices. In order to achieve this objective, an index fund and index-tracking collective investment schemes invest primarily in securities held in the relevant benchmark index. An index fund and index-tracking collective investment schemes place limitations on the amount by which a holding may deviate from the proportion in the benchmark to limit the market risk from mismatched positions.

All investments present a risk of loss of capital. The Investment Manager assesses market risk volatility to ensure that the effect of using financial derivative instruments is not significant enough to cause disproportionate losses to overall value. The Investment Manager moderates this risk through careful selection of financial instruments.

Allocation Risk. The Asset Allocation Funds pursue an investment strategy whereby the Investment Manager has discretion over the composition of the Funds' portfolio holdings and is not managed with reference to a benchmark index. However, the investment manager manages the Funds through pre-determined asset allocations to equity and fixed income securities using a combination of underlying collective investment schemes. Asset allocation risk occurs when the Asset Allocation Funds are not able to invest the pre-determined allocations. The Investment Manager moderates this risk through careful selection of the underlying collective investment schemes chosen for the pre-determined allocation.

Currency Risk. Currency risk is the risk that the value of the Funds' investments will fluctuate as a result of changes in currency exchange rates. Local interest rates and monetary policy, as well as other government fiscal and labour policies, can also adversely impact currency values. The Funds may enter into foreign currency contracts for hedging purposes, which can include the economic hedging of all or a portion of the currency exposure of an investment or group of investments. The Funds may also enter into these contracts for non-hedging purposes, which can include increasing the exposure to a foreign currency, or the shifting of exposure to foreign currency fluctuations from one country to another. Currency positions are reconciled daily and discrepancies are immediately resolved. Procedures are established with the Investment Manager to trade currency as closely as possible to the close of the markets, so as to obtain exchange rates that closely approximate the rates used in the daily valuation.

Each hedged share class incorporates a currency hedge, which acts as a buffer against the impact of currency fluctuations for investors for whom the base currency is hedge share class-specific currency. The Company does not have significant exposure to currency risk.

Interest Rate Risk. The Funds may invest in fixed income securities either directly or through underlying collective investment schemes. Income on fixed income securities may be affected by changes in interest rates relevant to particular securities or as a result of the Investment Manager being unable to secure similar returns on the expiry of contracts or sale of securities. The value of fixed rate securities may be affected by interest rate movements or the expectation of such movements in the future. Interest receivable on bank deposits or payable on bank overdraft will also be affected by fluctuations in interest rates.

The majority of the Company's financial assets and liabilities are non-interest bearing and as a result, the Company has limited exposure to interest rate risk. For Funds with a material exposure to interest rate risk, the tables below summarise the percentage of each Fund's fixed income holdings by maturity:

Management of Market Risk (Including Price, Foreign Currency and Interest Rate Risks). Using risk models and quantitative tools, the Investment Manager performs daily reviews of exposure to: style, country, sector and currency related risk factors for equity portfolios and interest rate, credit spread, and currency related risk factors for fixed income portfolios. For index funds, in practice, this is implemented by either fully replicating a benchmark or by holding a representative sample of benchmark securities. The Investment Adviser employs a 'passive' investment strategy aimed to minimize tracking-error and portfolio management related costs through the optimization of the Funds' relative exposure to the relevant risk factors of the benchmarks. In addition, the Investment Manager performs daily checks of performance against the respective benchmarks. Efficient portfolio management techniques, as described in Note 10, may be used to minimize transaction costs or taxes. Procedures are established with the Investment Adviser to trade currency as closely as possible to the close of the markets, so as to obtain exchange rates that closely approximate the rates used in the daily valuation.

The Asset Allocation Funds use a blend of broad and well-diversified benchmarks the Investment Manager considers to be a fair representation of their respective risk profiles.

Each Fund's market risk profile is correlated to the change in return for its respective benchmark index. The sensitivity analysis below reflects the interdependencies between risk variables (price, foreign currency, and interest rate) and demonstrates the effect a change in benchmark return had on the net assets of the Fund during the period:

The effect of market price movement of +/- 10% to the Company's Financial Assets at Fair Value Through Profit or Loss of $83,685,826,793, with all other variables remaining constant, would result in a change to the Company's net assets of $8,368,582,679 (30 June 2022: $7,752,145,500).

Liquidity Risk. Liquidity risk is the risk that sufficient cash cannot be raised to meet liabilities when due. One of the key liquidity factors influencing the Company and the Funds is exposure to cash redemptions of redeemable participating shares. Hence the Company through the Funds invests the large majority of its assets in investments that are traded in active markets and can ordinarily be readily disposed. However, liquidity risk will occur if an issuer becomes credit-impaired or if the relevant market becomes illiquid. In such a case, it may not be possible to initiate or liquidate a position at a price deemed by the Investment Manager to be demonstrating fair value. Liquidity risk may be temporary or may last for extended periods. The Company through the Funds invests in securities that form part of the benchmark indices. Benchmark indices are constructed from index rules requiring securities to have a specified minimum trading volume, which, although not guaranteeing liquidity, provides indication of the liquid nature of the securities underlying the Funds. The Funds are exposed to withdrawals and contributions that are invested to ensure that exposures to the benchmark indices are maintained in order to meet the investment objective of the Funds. All of the Fund's financial liabilities, based on contractual maturities, fall due within three months. The expected settlement dates can be more than three months based on the analysis of the remaining period at the reporting date to the maturity date and are outlined in the schedules of investments.

No shareholder owns greater than 25% of the net assets of the Company. Shareholders owning greater than 25% of the net assets of a Fund may further expose the Fund to concentration risks that could impact liquidity should one or more of these shareholders submit redemption requests.

Management of Liquidity Risk. In order to meet redemption requests and raise cash from the portfolio, the Investment Manager receives daily reports of share capital activity from the Administrator. The Investment Manager incorporates cash forecasts into the daily management of the portfolio and monitors cash balances daily.

Index futures contracts also support liquidity and may be used to a limited extent, to maintain full exposure to the index, maintain liquidity and minimise transaction costs. The Funds may equitise cash holdings by purchasing or selling futures contracts in response to cash inflows and outflows, thereby simulating a fully invested position in the underlying index while maintaining a cash balance for liquidity purposes.

Subject to certain circumstances as detailed in the Prospectus, negative impacts to liquidity or transaction costs caused by significant shareholder redemptions may be mitigated through the Funds' available liquidity measures including, but not limited to, the use of (a) distribution of underlying investments rather than cash, subject to certain conditions, in which case the shareholder may bear the cost of charges incurred in connection with the sale of such underlying investments, (b) limiting the maximum amount of daily redemptions when total redemption requests for the day exceed 10%, or (c) temporary suspension of dealing in shares. Should the Funds require, they also have access to a syndicated line of credit for temporary or emergency purposes (as disclosed in Note 9).

Credit Risk. Credit risk is the risk that a counterparty to a transaction or an issuer of a financial instrument will fail to pay interest and principal when due, or that perceptions of the issuer's ability to make such payments will cause the price of an investment to decline. Significant investment in debt securities or use of over-the-counter derivative contracts to a material degree will generally increase credit risk.

Credit risk exposure is also created through interactions with brokers and custodians. However, transactions in listed securities are settled and paid for upon delivery of securities using only approved brokers. The risk of default is therefore considered minimal because securities are delivered only when the broker has made payment and the broker is paid for purchases only once the securities have been received by Brown Brothers Harriman Trustee Services (Ireland) Limited (the "Depositary").

Credit risk may also arise from assets of the Funds which are substantially all held by the Depositary. Bankruptcy or insolvency of the Depositary may cause certain rights with respect to securities and other positions held to be delayed or limited. As of 31 December 2022, the Depositary has a long-term credit rating of A+ from Fitch (30 June 2022: A+). Additionally, the Depositary ensures there is legal separation of non-cash assets held in custody, that such assets are held on a fiduciary basis, and that appropriate internal control systems are maintained such that records clearly identify the nature and amount of all assets under custody. All securities held in custody by the Depositary are segregated from the Depositary's own assets, whether in a vault, in segregated accounts on the books of sub-custodians, or in an account maintained at a central securities depositary. The Depositary maintains segregated accounts per client on its own books as well as on the books of sub-custodians in local markets, where possible.

The Company is exposed to credit risk through investments made in fixed income securities within its Funds. Credit risk is managed at the Fund level. For Funds invested in fixed income holdings the following is an analysis of the concentration of issuer credit ratings, which is then reflected in their fair value measurement of these financial assets in the financial statements:

Management of Credit Risk. Credit risk is managed by investment policies which restrict or place limits on acceptable portfolio and net asset concentrations as well as exposure to certain instruments, credit institutions and counterparties. The Investment Manager performs daily reviews of portfolio attributes, such as sector diversification and credit quality, and makes adjustments where necessary to ensure that the credit risk components closely match those of the respective benchmarks. Credit ratings of debt instruments and counterparties are monitored and evaluated periodically by the Investment Manager; an approved counterparty list is maintained, and trading with approved counterparties is enforced. The Funds also enter into master netting arrangements with their counterparties and require the transfer of collateral to secure performance. The value of securities pledged or received as collateral against derivative contracts is disclosed in Note 11. Securities received as collateral from counterparties are not reflected in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities of the Funds. Similarly, security collateral received from the borrower from securities lending transactions is not recognised by the Funds as an asset because they do not have rights to sell or re-pledge the collateral, unless in the event of default.

Interest Rate Benchmark Reform. Certain Funds are exposed to specific interest rate benchmarks subject to reform and whose publication has already, or will, cease in the future. While the Funds are transitioning to alternative benchmark rates, any existing investment in floating rate securities referencing these rates can introduce an element of pricing and liquidity risk, should the market for these securities become less liquid. The Funds' investment manager actively monitors and manages the transition to alternative rates by continually reviewing the total amounts of contracts that have yet to transition, reducing or eliminating exposure to these contracts, or ensuring these contracts contain appropriate fallback clauses. The transition away from benchmark rates to which the Funds have exposure has largely been completed.

5. Taxation. Under current law and practice, the Company qualifies as an investment undertaking as defined in Section 739B of the Taxes Consolidation Act, 1997, as amended. On that basis, it is not chargeable to Irish tax on its income or gains.

However, Irish tax may arise on the happening of a "chargeable event". A chargeable event includes any distribution payments to shareholders, any encashment, redemption, cancellation or transfer of shares, or appropriation or cancellation of shares of a shareholder by the Company for the purposes of meeting the amount of tax payable on a gain arising on a transfer. Any tax arising on a chargeable event is a liability of the shareholders, albeit it is paid by the Company (although if the Company fails to deduct the correct amount of tax it becomes ultimately a liability of the Company).

No Irish tax will arise on the Company in respect of chargeable events in respect of:

(a) a shareholder who is neither Irish resident nor ordinarily resident in Ireland for tax purposes, at the time of the chargeable event, provided appropriate valid declarations in accordance with the provisions of the Taxes Consolidation Act, 1997, as amended, are held by the Company or the Company has been authorised by the Irish Income to make gross payments in the absence of appropriate declarations; and

(b) certain exempted Irish tax resident shareholders who have provided the necessary signed statutory declarations.

Dividends, interest and capital gains received on investments may be subject to withholding or other taxes imposed by the country from which the investment income/gains are received, and such taxes may not be recoverable. Foreign withholding taxes on dividends and interest are recognised when such taxes are not recoverable and are included in Taxation. Funds may also be subject to tax on the realised and unrealised portion of their capital gains.

The Funds have filed tax reclaims for previously withheld taxes on dividends earned in certain European Union countries. These filings are subject to various administrative and judicial proceedings within these countries. Such tax reclaims recognised during the year, if any, are included in Taxation. No other amounts for these tax reclaims are reflected in the financial statements due to the uncertainty as to the ultimate resolution of proceedings, the likelihood of receipt of these reclaims and the potential timing of payment.

6. Distribution Policy. The Directors intend to distribute all, or substantially all, of the net income (interest and dividends, less expenses) to distributing share class holders. Should expenses exceed income, no distribution is made. Dividend distributions are payable to shareholders of record on the date on which the dividend is declared. Dividends on Asset Allocation funds, if any, are paid semi-annually. Dividends on other equity funds are paid on a quarterly basis and dividends on fixed income funds are paid on a monthly basis, unless otherwise detailed. The Directors do not intend to declare dividends on accumulating shares.

The following table presents the payment frequency with respect to distributing share classes. If a dividend has not been declared, income and gains of such Fund will be reflected in the net asset value per share.

7. Net Asset Value Per Share. The net asset value per share of each share class is calculated by dividing the total net assets of each share class by the number of shares in issue.

8. Share Capital. The Company has variable share capital consisting of 5,000,000,000,002 authorised shares divided into two Subscriber Shares (US$1.00 par value) and 5,000,000,000,000 (five trillion) redeemable participating shares (no par value).

The Directors may issue shares of any class and create new classes of shares on such terms as the Directors may from time to time determine in relation to any Fund and in accordance with the requirements of the Central Bank. Shares may be divided into different classes to accommodate different subscription, redemption or fee arrangements, dividend provisions, or charges.

Subscriber Shares. There are two Subscriber Shares in issue, which are held by nominees for the Investment Manager. Subscriber Shares do not entitle the holders thereof to any dividend and on a winding-up entitle the holder to receive the amount paid up thereon but not otherwise to participate in the assets of the Company. The Subscriber Shares do not form part of the Shareholders' funds and are not included in the net asset value of the Company.

Redeemable Participating Shares. Members who are individuals may attend and vote at general meetings in person or by proxy. Members who are corporations may attend and vote at general meetings by appointing a representative or proxy. Subject to any special terms as to voting upon which any shares may be issued or may for the time being be held, at any general meeting on a show of hands every Shareholder who (being an individual) is present in person or (being a corporation) is present by duly authorised representative shall have one vote. On a poll every such holder presents as aforesaid or by proxy shall have one vote for every share held. If the Company shall be wound up, then the payment to the holders of the redeemable participating shares of each class of a sum in the currency in which that class is designated as nearly as possible equal to the Net Assets Attributable to Holders of Redeemable Participating Shares respectively as at the date of commencement. In the event that there are insufficient assets available in the relevant Fund to enable such payment, the assets of the Company not comprised within any of the Funds to the assets remaining in the Funds for the other classes of Shares after payment to the holders of the Shares of the class to which they relate of the amounts to which they are respectively entitled under this paragraph prorata to the total value of such assets remaining within each such Fund.

9. Credit Facility. The Funds and certain other funds managed by the Manager or its affiliates participate in an annually renewable USD $4.4 billion (2021: $4.3 billion) committed credit facility. Each participating Fund is individually liable for its borrowings under the credit facility. Borrowings may be utilised for temporary or emergency purposes and are subject to the participating fund's regulatory and contractual borrowing restrictions. Participating Funds are allocated an annual commitment fee of 0.10% of the undrawn facility amount as well as certain administrative fees. Any fees allocated to the Funds are paid by the Manager. Interest and direct borrowing costs associated with draws on the credit facility are charged to the Funds and recorded in the Statement of Operations.

Any borrowings under this facility denominated in euros bear interest at the Euro Interbank Offered Rate plus an applicable margin, while borrowings under this facility in denominations other than euros bear interest at a rate equal to the higher of the one-month London Interbank Offered Rate (or an acceptable alternate rate, if necessary), federal funds effective rate or overnight bank funding rate plus an agreed-upon spread.

As part of the annual credit facility renewal, new funds launched since the previous renewal are considered for inclusion in the agreement. The ESG Developed Asia Pacific All Cap UCITS ETF, ESG Developed Europe All Cap UCITS ETF, ESG Emerging Markets All Cap UCITS ETF, ESG North America All Cap UCITS ETF, ESG EUR Corporate Bond UCITS ETF and USD Corporate Bond UCITS ETF will be added to the credit facility agreement as part of the 2023 renewal.

The Funds did not have any borrowings outstanding at 31 December 2022 or at any time during the period then ended (30 June 2022: none).

10. Efficient Portfolio Management. Investment techniques and financial derivative instruments (FDIs) may be employed for efficient portfolio management purposes, including hedging against market movements, currency exchange or interest rate risks. Any investment technique or use of FDIs must be one which is reasonably believed by the Investment Manager to be economically appropriate in that it is realised in a cost-effective way. Realised and unrealised gains or losses arising from financial derivative instrument transactions are accounted for through the Statement of Operations as Net Gain/(Loss) on Investment Instruments.

Securities lending is also used for efficient portfolio management. The securities lending agent is Brown Brothers Harriman & Co. All operational costs in support of the lending programme are borne by the lending agent and paid directly out of any lending agent fees. Securities lending income is net of any lending agent fees paid.

Securities on loan continue to be recognised by the Funds as financial assets because they substantially retain the risks and rewards of ownership. Similarly, security collateral received from the borrower is not recognised by the Funds as an asset because they do not have rights to sell or re-pledge the collateral, unless in the event of default. Collateral accepted by the Funds is limited to high quality sovereign debt (U.S. Treasuries, U.K. Gilts, etc.).

Securities on loan by the Funds and the value of collateral held in respect of the securities were:

11. Collateral. The Funds pledge and receive non-cash collateral against financial derivative instrument transactions, but such collateral cannot be sold, re-invested or re-pledged. As a result, pledged collateral remains an asset of the Fund and is included in the Statement of Investments. Equally, securities received as collateral are not considered assets of the Fund and will not appear in the Statement of Investments. The Funds may also be required to maintain cash collateral in margin accounts with certain counterparties. This cash is segregated on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities and presented separately as "Cash Collateral". In addition, the Funds receive other non-cash collateral in relation to securities lending transactions which is separately disclosed in Note 10. Counterparties to financial derivative transactions where collateral was required to be exchanged included Bank of America, Barclays Bank plc, BNP Paribas, Citigroup, Goldman Sachs, HSBC Bank, JPMorgan Chase Bank, Morgan Stanley, Nomura, Royal Bank of Canada, Santander Bank, Standard Chartered Bank, State Street Bank, Toronto Dominion Bank and UBS AG.

As of 31 December 2022 and 30 June 2022, non-cash collateral pledged or received by the Funds for financial derivative instrument transactions was:

12. Related Party and Affiliate Transactions. Parties are related if one can control or exercise significant influence over the other in making financial or operational decisions. The Company's directors, the Manager and Investment Manager, and members of the group of which these entities are a part, as well as any sub-investment manager or their delegates, are considered related parties.

Manager. Vanguard Group (Ireland) Limited is the Funds' Manager and acts as a principal in respect of all transactions of shares in the Funds. For its services, the Manager receives a fixed single fee per share class (the "Management Fees") calculated on a daily basis and paid monthly. Out of the fees received, the Manager pays for any sub-advisers, as well as the costs of administration including audit, depositary, legal, registration and regulatory fees associated with the Funds. As a result, the Manager anticipates that the ongoing charges figure ("OCF") of each share class will closely track the Management Fees. In the event that the costs and expenses of the Company or any Fund exceed the OCF, the Manager will be responsible for discharging any excess out of its own assets. The Manager, in its sole discretion, may voluntarily waive all or part of its fee, and any such waiver could be discontinued at any time and without notice.

The Asset Allocation Funds invest in affiliated collective investment schemes, and substantially all of the income from these collective investment schemes are derived from related party holdings. Each Asset Allocation Fund separately includes within this report a complete set of financial statements which details its holdings in related parties, significant portfolio changes, revenues, and net gains or losses from these investments in related parties. Additionally with respect to the Funds, the Manager will reduce its Management Fees in an amount equal to similar charges already incurred in the underlying affiliated collective investment schemes.

Any amounts due from or to the Manager at the end of the period are disclosed in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Amounts paid to the Manager in respect to fees for the period are disclosed in the Statement of Operations.

Operating segments are the components of the Company whose results are regularly reviewed by the Company's chief operating decision maker ("CODM") when determining resources to be allocated and assessing performance. The Company's board of directors is the CODM. The board sets the investment objective and evaluates the performance, funding model, and market and geographic focus of the Company's Funds individually. As returns are linked to unique investment objectives, each sub-fund is considered a reportable segment and separately includes within this report a complete set of financial statements which details its segment assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses.

The Asset Allocation Funds invest in other Funds of the Company, which are disclosed in each Fund's Statement of Investments. These cross investments and any related movements in realised or unrealised gains and losses on these investments have been eliminated in the Company financial statements.
